WHOLESALE RAID WAS WORK OF ONE U-BOAT SAY U. S. NAVAL MEN

Speed and Cleverness Evidently Led to Belief That She Was at Least Two in Number.

ONLY SIX VESSELS SUNK

Submarine Had Hands Full, and Had to Request One Victim Ship to Await Her Turn.

NO FURTHER RAIDING DONE

Rumor That British Cruiser Was Attacked is Unconfirmed.

Newport, R. I., October 9. — The wholesale raid on foreign shipping south of Nantucket lightship Sunday was the work of one submarine according to reports of American naval officers. Rear Admiral Albert Gleaves, commanding the torpedo boat destroyer flotilla, which did such remarkably speedy rescue work yesterday, said tonight that the reports of all his officers agreed that to the best of their observation one raider only was concerned. This boat presumably was the German U-53, which called at Newport Saturday.

Admiral Gleaves said he could easily understand the positive statements of the captain of the Nantucket lightship and of sailors of the torpedoed vessels that more than one submarine was concerned.

Very Fast and Clever.

The U-boat, he said, was very fast and appeared to have been handled cleverly. It was easy, he pointed out, for her to disappear on one side of a ship and then show up unexpected at another spot. Doubtless, he believed, she had submerged and re-appeared often enough to mislead any but a keen professional observer and to create the impression that more than one sea terror was operating.

This opinion would seem to be borne out by the statement of many of the refugees that the submarine had more business on hand than she could make care of at once and was obliged to request one steamer to wait her turn while another was being put out of commission. Lieutenant-Commander Miller, of the destroyer Ericsson, who witnessed the destruction of the Stephano, said he was positive that only one submarine was in the vicinity at the time.

The Raiding Ceased.

Today the raiding had ceased at least for the moment.

The known list of the victims of the U-boat's Sunday exploits remains at six, notwithstanding reports of the Nantucket lightship that three other ships, the identity of which could not be learned, were sent to the bottom. There also was a persistent rumor, without verification, that a British cruiser, one of the allied patrol fleet sent to the submarine zone, had been attacked.

Ten more refugees were landed here tonight, by the Melville, tender of the destroyer flotilla, which picked up ten Chinese members of the crew of the steamer Strathdene. They were sent to the training station to be held until immigration inspectors can pass upon their cases, after which they probably will be transferred to New York.

No Trace of Kingstonian Crew.

Destroyers swept the waters on a wide area today in a vain search for the crew of the steamer Kingstonian, who were seen by members of the steamer Strathdene to take to their boats before the vessel was sunk. Rear Admiral Knight was of the opinion that the Kingstonian's crew had been picked up by an eastbound steamer which did not care to divulge her position to lurking submarines by reporting the fact by wireless.

Notwithstanding the lull in submarine activities today, shipping men were by no means re-assured. If only one raider were concerned, she might be waiting only to replenish her supplies, they believed.

This gave rise to a renewal of reports that elaborate methods of supplying foreign submarines from American bases had been perfected.

Rumors in Shipping Circles.

In order to dispose as far as possible of claims of this sort, as applied to the Narragansett bay district, William H. Walcott, deputy collector of customs, made a careful investigation today to learn if any merchant boat or yacht had cleared from Newport Saturday or Sunday which might have carried supplies. The investigation it is understood was made on orders from Washington. Mr. Walcott found no indication that any such supply boat had cleared.

Another report persisting in shipping circles was that the call of Capt. Hans Rose, of the U-53, upon American naval officers here, was to give an intimation that rescue ships might be needed in the vicinity soon, as well as to exchange formal visits of courtesy. Shippers pointed to the promptness with which 17 fleet destroyers had been

SAYS STRATHDENE WAS NOT WARNED

Her Captain Asserts 13 Shots were Fired at Her Before Crew Took to Boats.

STATEMENT CORROBORATED

Captain Wilson Says, However, None of the Shots Took Effect Until After the Crew Had Left the Ship.

New York, Oct. 9.—Thirteen shots were fired at the British steamship Strathdene, one of the vessels sunk by a German submarine off Nantucket yesterday, before the 32 members of the crew had taken to their boats, according to Captain Wilson, the Strathdene's commander, who was brought here today with his crew by the Uruguayan steamer P. L. M. No. 4.

"My ship was attacked without warning," declared Captain Wilson, after he had given a detailed statement of the incident to the British consul general. Thirteen shots were fired before we left the vessel. None of the shots, however, struck the ship until we had taken to the boats."

Under instructions from the consul general, Captain Wilson declined to give out further information. Consular officials said Captain Wilson's report first would have to be forwarded to the British ambassador at Washington before he could discuss the sinking of the Strathdene.

Members of the Strathdene's crew said that after they had pulled away from their ship they saw the submarine approach the oil steamer Christian Knudsen, whose crew seemed to be getting ready to lower their boats. The submarine then returned and torpedoed the Strathedene and again steamed toward the oil ship and apparently replenished her oil tanks. Several torpedo boats were in the vicinity, the sailors said, when the two ships were sunk. Officers of the rescuing ship asserted the Strathedene's officers told them that the submarine was made fast to the tanker for three-quarters of an hour, taking oil before that vessel was sunk.

Statement Corroborated.

Accounts of the torpedoing of the Strathdene told on board the P. L. M. No. 4, by the rescued crew, corroborated Captain Wilson's statement that his ship was fired on before the officers and crew got into the boats.

DRIFT TOWARD WILSON WAS NEVER SO STRONG

Hon. A. W. McLean Sees No Possibility of Hughes' Election.

Believes New York, Ohio and Michigan Will Give Their Electoral Vote to the President—Industry Boosted by Democrats.

Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 9. — A. W. McLean, Democratic National Committeeman for North Carolina, here today for a conference with Democratic State Chairman Thomas D. Warren, said the trend toward President Wilson just at this time is the strongest it has ever been, and he sees no possibility for Republican success in the Nation, unless there is an unprecedented expenditure of campaign funds in the doubtful states by the Republican campaign committee. Mr. McLean expressed himself as especially pleased with the news from New York and the trend Wilsonward in that state.

He believes that Ohio is sure to give Wilson a majority. He says he had a letter a day or two ago from a friend in the Buckeye state who is a strong Republican and who expressed the opinion that Ohio is sure to give the electoral vote to Wilson, although this Ohio friend was going to support Hughes.

Mr. McLean says that information through a number of the best informed national committeemen in touch with that section, indicates that Michigan will be for Wilson, due largely to the influence of Henry Ford, who has shown remarkable political strength in that state. He is gratified at the Literary Digest straw vote of labor union representative, which shows that Wilson will have nearly all that element along with other desirable classes of citizenship.

The Wilson administration Mr. McLean says, has developed the cotton milling and other industries wonderfully, so that the cotton mills are enjoying the greatest prosperity in the history of the industry. And he believes that those interested in these industries can but realize the benefits of Democratic policies. He believes the Wilson administration did a great thing for the cotton milling and other indus-

WILSON TO CONFER WITH LANSING ON SUBMARINE RAIDS

Conference Today Taken as Meaning That Situation is One of Grave Possibilities.

BERNSTORFF MAKES CALL

President Says German Government Will be Held to Complete Fulfillment of Promise.

Long Branch, N. J., Oct. 9.—Secretary Lansing, it was announced tonight, will come here tomorrow for a conference with President Wilson concerning German submarine raids off the American coast. Mr. Lansing is expected to remain over night at the President's summer residence.

The announcement that the Secretary of State would confer with the President confirmed the impression gained here earlier in the day that the American government considered the attacks on vessels off the American coast by a German submarine as fraught with grave possibilities. At the same time, it was made clear that there is nothing in the reports so far received to show that international law or the earlier promises of Germany had been violated. Concern over the situation centered chiefly about the possibility of what might happen if the submarine attacks are continued.

The President's Position.

The position of the American government and its determination to make a full investigation before acting was made clear in the following statement given out by the President:

"The government will, of course, first inform itself as to all the facts, that there may be no doubt or mistake as far as they are concerned.

"The country may rest assured that the German government will be held to the complete fulfillment of its promises to the government of the United States.

"I have no right now to question its willingness to fulfill them."

Bernstorff Sees Wilson.

Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, who came here today to give the President a personal letter from the German Emperor on Polish relief, discussed with President Wilson the new activities of German submarines. It was understood that the President made it clear that, while the American government had no intention of interfering with the legitimate activities of submarines, it would insist on the strict observance of the pledges given previously by the German government.

The ambassador, while expressing an entire lack of official information from his government on the new sub-

REPUBLICAN PROGRAM OUTLINED BY HUGHES

Assails Wilson's Foreign and Mexican Policies.

Do Not Propose to Tolerate Any Improper Interference With American Property, Mails or Commerce.

Philadelphia, Oct. 9.—Charles E. Hughes, in a speech at the Metropolitan Opera House here tonight, vigorously assailed the administration for its foreign and Mexican policies and outlined the Republican party programme, in two respects, as follows:

"We do not propose to tolerate any improper interference with American property, with American mails or with legitimate commercial intercourse.

"No American who is exercising only American rights shall be put on any black list by any foreign nation."

In addition to references to the seizure of American mails and the British black list of American firms, Mr. Hughes recalled the sinking of the Lusitania, repeating the declaration contained in his speech of acceptance that, had the American government left no doubt "that when we said 'strict accountability' we meant precisely what we said," there would have been no destruction of American lives by the sinking of the Lusitania.

Earlier in the day Mr. Hughes had authorized the issuance of this statement:

As to Submarine Raid.

"Mr. Hughes was asked today for his views with respect to the present submarine situation. He refused to discuss it. He said he was not in control of official agencies and was not in receipt of official information. He said further that he had no desire to embarrass the administration in dealing with any current matters as to which the administration had the whole responsibility."

Newark, N. J. Oct. 9.—In a speech here today Judge Hughes said:

"I am not opposed to the principle of an eight-hour workday. On the contrary, I favor it. The general principle of the eight-hour workday is that

Summary Of The News Concerning The Raid

State Department officials have come to the conclusion that so far none of Germany's promises to the United States and none of the rules of international law have been broken in the submarine raid.

Apparently satisfied with the record of at least six boats sunk Sunday, or possibly short of torpedoes, the German submarine raids on steamers off Nantucket were not continued Monday. Meanwhile, however, the operations of the German undersea craft so close to the American shore has created a situation which President Wilson and Secretary of State Lansing will discuss Tuesday at Shadow Lawn, the Presidents summer home. Already the President has announced that Germany will be held to the complete fulfillment of its promises to the United States, concerning submarine warfare.

Details of the sinking of the four British and two neutral vessels which have been brought in by persons who were aboard some of them, indicate that no lives were lost in the hurried transfer from the steamers to the ships' small boats. Torpedo boat destroyers have not yet located the crew of the steamer Kingstonian, but the belief prevails that the men have been picked up by some eastbound merchantman.

SHOULD HAVE BEEN DETAINED IN PORT

Evident View of Great Britain as to Duty of America Toward Submarine U-53.

MEMORANDUM PUBLISHED

Recent British Document Sent Neutrals Discusses Latter's Duty When Visited by Belligerent Submarines.

London, Oct. 9. — The text of the memorandum recently sent by the Entente Allies to neutral governments respecting the admission of belligerent submarines into neutral waters or ports is as follows:

"In view of the development of submarine navigation and by reason of acts, which in the present circumstances may be unfortunately expected from enemy submarines, the allied governments consider it necessary, in order not only to safeguard their belligerent right and liberty of commercial navigation, but to avoid risks of dispute, to urge neutral governments to take effective measures, if they have not already done so, with a view to preventing belligerent submarine vessels, whatever the purpose to which they are put, from making use of neutral waters, roadsteads and ports.

"In the case of submarine vessels, the application of the principles of the laws of nations is affected by special and novel conditions, first, by the fact that these vessels can navigate and remain at sea submerged and can thus escape all control and observations; second, by the fact that it is impossible to identify them and establish their national character, whether neutral or belligerent, combatant or non-combatant, and to remove the capacity for harm inherent in the nature of such vessels.

"It may be further said that any place which provides a submarine warship far from its base with an opportunity for rest and replenishment of its supplies, thereby furnishes such addition to its powers that the place becomes, in fact, through the advantages which it gives, a base of naval operations.

"In view of the state of affairs thus existing, the allied governments are of the opinion that submarine vessels should be excluded from the benefit of the rules hitherto recognized by the laws of nations regarding the admission of vessels of war or merchant vessels into neutral waters, roadsteads or ports and their sojourn in them. Any belligerent submarine entering a neutral port should be detained there.

"The allied governments take this opportunity to point out to the neutral powers the grave danger incurred by neutral submarines in the navigation of regions frequented by belligerent submarines."

MARINE INSURANCE RATES ADVANCE FROM ONE TO FIVE

Sudden Jump is Consequence of German Submarine Raid.

New York, Oct. 9.—Marine insurance rates from American to English ports today jumped one to five per cent in consequence of the German submarine operations. Rates to Havre and Bordeaux increased from 5-8 and 3-4 of one per cent to 5 per cent.

Some brokers were asking for trans-Atlantic insurance as high as 10 per cent, and others refused to quote rates at all.

To South America and the Panama Canal the rates advanced from 1-4 and 1-2 per cent to 2 per cent.

Quotations marked the biggest advance in rates since that which followed the news of the operations of the German raider Moewe in the South Atlantic when they advanced from 1-4 per cent to 5 per cent.

London, 9.—Walter Hines Page, the American ambassador to the court of St. James, accompanied by Mrs. Page, their son and daughter, arrived in London today.

RUMANIANS ALONG WHOLE LINE ARE RETREATING NOW

This is the Claim in Berlin Report as to Operations in Transylvania.

ALLIES RETAKE TOERZBURG

Considerable Forces of Serbians Cross Cerna River; Hard Fighting West of Lutsk.

On the battle fronts in Europe, Transylvania and Macedonia continue for the moment the centers of greatest interest. According to Berlin, the Rumanians in Transylvania are retreating along the whole line. The Teutonic allies have recaptured the town of Toerzburg, 15 miles southwest of Kronstadt and within seven miles of the Rumanian border. In the Danube, north of Sistova, the Germans have occupied an island, taking six guns and making prisoners of the Rumanian troops there.

Serbians in considerable force have crossed the Cerna river, in Serbia, and captured the town of Skochivir, southeast of Monastir, and have also occupied positions along the north bank of the river.

Considerable hard fighting has again taken place in the region west of Lutsk and further south in Galicia, but the results are somewhat beclouded by reason of the contradictory reports of the Petrograd and Berlin war office statements. Petrograd says the Russians have succeeded in entering Austro-German positions east of Vladimir-Volynski, but Berlin reports that these attacks failed with sanguinary losses to the Russians. Near Brzesany, southeast of Lemberg, in Galicia, both Petrograd and Berlin record repulses of attacks. In the Carpathians the Germans have made an advance at Badaludowa.

Violent reciprocal bombardments are in progress in the Somme region of France. Infantry attacks also have taken place, but no important gains for either side have been chronicled.

Carrying 2,000 Serbian and French soldiers, the auxiliary cruiser Gallia has been sunk in the Mediterranean with a loss of 635 men.

Berlin, via London, Oct. 9.—The Rumanians in Transylvania are retreating along the whole line, the war office announced today.

The Austro-German forces have captured Toerzburg.

Berlin, via London, Oct. 9.—Troops of Field Marshal von Mackensen by a surprise attack obtained possession of the island in the Danube, northwest of Sistova, it was announced officially today. They captured six guns and the Rumanian troops on the island.

FURTHER DECREASES IN PRODUCTION PROSPECTS

Indicated in Government's Monthly Crop Report.

All Principle Crops Short Except Corn, Flax, Rice and Kafirs—Wheat 400,000,000 Bushels Less Than Last Year.

Washington, Oct. 9.—Further decrease in production prospects of the country's principal farm crops, excepting corn, flax, rice and kafirs, was indicated today in the Department of Agriculture's monthly report.

A preliminary estimate places the wheat crop at 607,557,000 bushels, a drop of 3,500,000 bushels from the amount forecasted from September 1 conditions, and 404,000,000 under last year's record breaking crop.

Corn production prospects increased 8,400,000 bushels as a result of favorable weather conditions during September and a total crop of 2,717,932,000 bushels is forecast. That is more than 300,000,000 less than harvested last year.

The white potato crop is the smallest since 1911. Today's forecast of production is 300,563,000 bushels, a decrease of 17,929,000 bushels from the estimate made a month ago and 59,000,000 bushels below last year's crop.

Tobacco prospects decreased 20,485,000 pounds since last month's report, but the indicated production this year, 1,203,077,000 pounds, will be a record.

Decreases in production prospects, from last month's indication include: Oats 1,860,000 bushels; barley, 905,000 bushels; buckwheat, 1,846,000 bushels; sweet potatoes, 1,535000 bushels; pears, 99,000 bushels; apples, 1,510,000 barrels, and sugar beets, 148,000 tons.

Forecasts of production based on conditions October 1, are: Spring wheat, 152,551,000 bushels; all wheat 607,557,000; corn, 2,717,932,000; oats, 1,229,182,000; barley, 183,536,000; buckwheat, 13,942,000; white potatoes, 300,563,000; sweet potatoes, 67,794,000; flax, 15,411,000; rice, 33,160,000; tobacco, 1,203,077,000; pears, 10,193,000; apples, 66,189,000; sugar beets, 7,510,000; kafirs, 78,135,000; beans, 9,924,000.

RECORDS OF WORLD'S SERIES BROKEN AND TRADITIONS SHREDDED

U-BOAT VIRTUALLY WAS IN MID-OCEAN

Operations Were 45 Miles From American Territory, and 65 From Mainland.

BLOCKED TRAVEL LANES

Submarine U-53 Had Taken Position to Command Lines of Trans-Atlantic Travel Both Going and Coming.

Boston, Mass., Oct. 9.—When Lieut. Capt. Hans Rose went warring on enemy shipping, he placed the submarine U-53 in a position to command both the incoming lanes and the outgoing lane of what is known as the "outside course" of Atlantic travel. Operating off the Nantucket lightship, he was much farther from the American coast than the common description of his zone of activities suggests.

The island of Nantucket lies 20 miles south of the elbow of Cape Cod. The Nantucket lightship is stationed 45 miles south of Nantucket island. Between the island and the lightship are dangerous shoals. Accordingly, while operating off the lightship, the U-53 was 45 miles from American territory and 65 miles from the main land. So far as an invasion of the three-mile limit neutral zone was concerned, the warship might as well have been in mid-ocean.

Immediate south of Nantucket island is the lane followed by eastbound vessels. Twenty miles south of the island is the path of shipping bound in for New York.

The U-53, scouting ten miles south of Nantucket in clear weather Sunday, was able to pick up every craft going and coming on the outside course and only had to wait for her prey.

Vessels that upon being warned shifted their course to the inside route, that took them over the perilous shoals between Nantucket and the mainland, escaped the submarine but it is apparent that shipping generally chose the submarine danger in preference to the hazard of the shoals.

STEAMER AFIRE TOWED INTO HAMPTON ROADS

Flames in Hold of the Antilla Are Practically Under Control.

Coast Guard Cutter Onondaga and Naval Tug Towing Ward Liner Last Night Toward Newport News—Crew Landed.

Norfolk, Va., Oct. 9. — Towing the still burning steamer Antilla and the yacht Pacifique, the coast guard cutter Onondaga and the naval tug Sonoma arrived in Hampton Roads tonight and at last reports were proceeding towards Newport News. The fire in the freight hold of the Antilla, where there is a large quantity of sugar, was practically under control when the expedition passed Cape Henry.

The naval tug Sonoma pumped water in the burning ship's hold during the entire voyage of about 120 miles off the Virginia Capes, where the Antilla was picked up by the Onondaga.

The fire was raging fiercely when the Sonoma reached the scene early yesterday evening, but the powerful tug kept a steady stream of water pouring into her freight hold and by noon practically had the fire under control.

The Onondaga landed at Newport News Captain Blockadder, his 13-year-old daughter and his three mates. The crew of the Antilla was taken to New York by the Morro Castle. Several members of the crew had their feet and hands burned while fighting the flames, but so far as learned no one was injured seriously.

The fire, according to reports here, was discovered Friday. The crew fought the flames until Saturday, when they became exhausted with the fire gaining headway. Distress signals brought the Onondaga and the Standard Oil Steamer Somerset and the Morro Castle to the assistance of the burning vessel. About twenty other ships picked up the distress calls but their assistance was not needed.

The Antilla is owned by the Ward Line. She is a freight boat and operates between New York, Cuban and Gulf ports. She has on board a large quantity of sugar and mahogany timber.

Red Sox Take Second From Dodgers Only After Struggle Unsurpassed for Situations.

SCORE 2 TO 1—14 INNINGS

Teams Battled With Skill and Courage Almost Superhuman for More Than Two Hours.

GAINER THE STAR OF STARS

Victory Won in Thrilling Climax by Pinch Hitter and Runner.

Boston, Mass., October 9. — Breaking world's series records, and tearing traditions to shreds, the Boston Americans defeated the Brooklyn Nationals by a score of 2 to 1 in a 14-inning game here this afternoon. It was the second contest for the championship and was decided only after a struggle that surpassed in situations any ever evolved in the fertile mind of a baseball fiction writer.

For more than two hours the teams battled with almost superhuman skill and courage through a one-run tie. Then, with the stage set as if for the thrilling climax, a pinch hitter and a pinch runner won victory for the Red Sox, just as twilight threw its mantle of semi-darkness over Braves Field.

Gainer Star of Stars.

Of the heroes who arose from the playing field as did the warriors from the dragon's teeth sown by Jason in tales of Greek mythology, Delos Gainer, of Elkins, W. Va., was the star of stars. It was his single in the gathering darkness of the final inning that scored from second base, Michael McNally, of Minooka, Pa., running for Hoblitzell, with the tally that won the second straight victory for the Carriganites.

The contest opened with a sensational circuit smash by "Hy" Myers, in the initial inning and not for a moment afterward did the struggle halt or lose interest for the forty-odd thousand fans who hung on every play with intensity equal to that of the members of the two teams battling for fame and financal rewards. For a short space of time, the lone run scored by Myers appeared to be the margin that might give Brooklyn an even break in the series. In the third inning, however, Scott tripled to center and scored the tying run when Cutshaw juggled Ruth's tap, and had time only to make the play at first base.

Tied Through 11 Innings.

From that point, the Red Sox and Superbas grappled in a baseball battle that rolled through 11 periods of play without the slightest advantage for either club, while diamond deeds of amazing daring and skill held the spectators enthralled. Sizzling hits, wonderful catches, scintillating throws and the keenest of baseball generalship, succeeded each other so rapidly that those preceding were forgotten in the stunning brilliancy of later events.

Thus it came about that, with gray shadows creeping down over the stands to the field, the Boston players made their last stand at the plate. Sherrod Smith, Brooklyn's southpaw, who had fought a splendid twirling duel against Carrigan's left handed star, "Babe" Ruth, faltered for an instant with Hoblitzell at the bat. He could not locate the plate in the twilight and passed "Hobby" to Daubert's station. Lewis moved his club-mate to second with an infield sacrifice.

The Thrilling Climax.

Here the Red Sox manager showed his baseball acumen by sending McNally in to run for Hoblitzell, and taking Gainer from the bench to bat for Gardner. Gainer set himself for his effort and slashed a line drive between short and third, which came to Wheat on the second bound. The latter, playing in deep left, whipped the ball toward the plate with every atom of his strength, but McNally had sprinted with the crack of the bat and ball and slid home with the winning run before Catcher Miller could clutch the flying sphere.

As a result of Gainer's hit, the Boston team left for Brooklyn tonight with two of the necessary four victories to their credit, and will renew the struggle tomorrow at Ebbe's field. Almost simultaneously, the Brooklyn players departed for their home grounds confident that their fortunes will change once they are back upon familiar fields, and bearing with them the admiration of every spectator who witnessed their battleship battle against what is conceded to be one of the greatest baseball machines of modern times.

Brooklyn Gets Much Praise.

Brooklyn in the role of vanquished, garnered almost as much praise and honor as the triumphant Red Sox. Their fighting spirit will go down as one of the most remarkable in the annals of the game. In holding the Carrigan clan for 14 innings before ad-

FLASHES THE NEWS OVER 18,000 MILES OF WIRE

One Operator Sends Details of Game Throughout Country.

Associated Press Accomplishes an Unprecedented Feat in Transmission of News From the Stand in Braves Field.

New York, Oct. 9.—An unprecedented feat in the telegraphic transmission of news was accomplished by the traffic department of the Associated Press today when one operator, sitting in the stand at Braves Field in Boston, was enabled to flash over 18,000 miles of leased wire the story of how the Boston Americans beat the Brooklyn Nationals in the second game of the world's series.

Taking dictation from the Associated Press representatives covering the game, this telegrapher, J. A. Bates, through the telegraphic connections arranged for this service, was able to send the story to 300 Associated Press offices and newspapers in the United States,—tick for tick, into each office simultaneously—as far west as San Francisco, as far north as Duluth and as far south as New Orleans.

The operator sent the story over this 18,000-mile circuit continuously for two and a half hours and, at the instant McNally crossed the home plate with the winning run in the fourteenth inning, the flash "Boston wins" had gone the length and breadth of the country. The 18,000-mile circuit stands as a record in telegraphic history.

The foregoing dispatch explains how The Morning Star gets the detailed report of the big games each day while they are going on, play by play. The Associated Press telegraph operator in The Star office takes the reports as they are flashed throughout the country by that one operator sitting in the stand at Braves Field, and fans in Wilmington know what plays have been made just as early as those in the city of Boston and only an instant later than those watching the game.

FRITZ HANSON MAY RETURN

Clever Swede Writes That Things Look Bright for a Big Mat Season in Wilmington.

Wilmington may have some real classy mat battles during the coming winter, according to a letter received a few days ago from Fritz Hanson, by Gunner J. B. McGurley, of Fort Caswell. Fritz is now on a combined hunting and training trip in the hills of New Hampshire, and is rapidly rounding into shape to meet all comers.

His shoulder, which was injured in his match with Jack Ross in Columbia on Labor Day, has been treated by a celebrated osteopath, and will soon be in condition to once more play its part in some of Fritz's deadly scissors holds.

Owing to the location of so many good wrestlers in North Carolina, the quality of the visiting wrestlers this winter will be of a high class. There is a possibility that local fans will have the opportunity of seeing such top-notchers as "Strangler Ed" Lewis and Dr. Roller in action here.

Young Monday, the sensational New York welterweight, may finally decide to come here to seek Hanson's scalp. Should he do so, this will undoubtedly be one of the most spectacular matches ever pulled off in Wilmington. Monday is rated as being the only man of Hanson's weight in the country that has a chance of beating the clever Swede.

Hanson is also desirous of getting another crack at Jack Ross, who defeated him by default in Columbia. The South Carolina city is anxious to secure this match, but it is not as yet definitely settled as to whether it will be staged in Wilmington or Columbia.

Hanson has been much benefitted by his summer at the beach and hopes for one thing that it will enable him to work at a heavier weight this season. He is overweight considerably at present owing to inactivity brought about by his recent injuries. He hopes to work this winter in the 156-158 pound class.

Should Hanson's plans develop, he will probably arrive in Wilmington some time during the coming week. Gunner McGurley will be on hand to referee as long as he is stationed at Fort Caswell. This will mean that the matches will be conducted on a clean and square plane.

LOCAL DODGER ROOTERS YELLED TOO QUICK ON SMITH'S DOUBLE.

Forgot That He Might Try to Stretch It a Little Farther.

The crowds that watched the history-making game from The Morning Star's bulletin board yesterday afternoon, were just about as noisy as if they had been at Braves' Field watching "Hi" Myers when he made his home run in the first inning, or Del Gainor slashing out the hit that sent McNally over the plate with the winning run.

Partisanship in Wilmington seems to be about evenly divided between the two teams, with the Dodgers having a probable shade in the affair. After the battle was prolonged into extra innings, the excitement was intense, and each little play that would ordinarily have had no significance, was cheered wildly.

One amusing moment came in the behavior of the Brooklyn rooters. The Star's announcer yelled that Smith, the Dodger twirler, had hit a two bagger. The yells of the National champions' supporters fairly shook the foundation of the Federal building, "but" continued the announcer, "he is caught trying to stretch it into a triple." The Brooklyn yell stopped for all the world like a chicken's squawk when he is unceremoniously stuffed in a sack.

The plays yesterday were called out to the fans in exactly one minute after they occurred in Boston. Another matinee will be given of the third game this afternoon, beginning at 2 o'clock.

Yesterday's game being the longest world's series game ever staged between the representatives of the National and American Leagues, a record of other long games played during the big series of other years is given: 1907, Chicago Cubs 3, Detroit 3, 13 innings; 1912, Boston Red Sox 3, Giants 2, 11 innings; 1914, Braves 5, Athletics 4, 12 innings; 1911, Giants 4, Athletics 3, 10 innings; 1913, Giants 3, Athletics 0, 10 innings.

BROOKLYN IS BASEBALL CENTER OF UNIVERSE

Third World Series Game in Ebbetts' Field Today

All Boxes and Nearly All Reserved Seats, Accommodating About 24,000 Persons, Had Been Sold Last Night.

New York, Oct. 9.—Brooklyn made ready tonight to take its place for the time being as the baseball center of the universe. The shift called for by the world's series schedule brings the battling teams to Ebbets' field for the third game of the big set, and gives the loyal legions of Brooklyn rooters their first opportunity to rally in force to the support of their favorites.

That they were preparing to make the most of it was evident from the demand for tickets. The Brooklyn clhb announced that all the boxes and virtually all the reserved seats, providing accommodations for about 24,000 persons, had been sold.

Few Seats Left.

All that remained to be disposed of were some 2,000 unreserved seats that had been provided in temporary bleachers of the circus variety, erected in left field.

Tonight there was every indication that the 2,000 field seats would be taken quickly after the ticket window was opened, at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning, and that the game would be witnessed by a crowd that would fill the park to its 26,000 capacity.

The two defeats in Boston were by such close scores and particularly in today's game, accompanied by the exhibition of such high class baseball and evidences of gameness by the Superbas, that Brooklyn fans still slung strongly to hopes of ultimate victory.

Coombs or Marquard are fandom selections for tomorrow.

The rival teams reached here on a late evening train from Boston, the Red Sox going to an uptown hotel in Manhattan for the night. The members of the Brooklyn squad took automobiles for Flatbush to spend the night in their homes there.

Weather Less Promising.

Weather prospects tonight were that the third game of the series would be played under less favorable conditions than the first two. A cool wind, with a threat of rain, blew from the southwest, indicating that football rather than baseball weather might be in store tomorrow.

mitting defeat, they established a new record for world's series play, eclipsing the three to three 12-inning tie game played by the Chicago Nationals and the Detroit Americans in 1907.

No finer setting for a baseball battle of this record breaking type could have been conjured by the cleverest mind of a stage director. Braves Field, the largest baseball stadium in the country, was filled with a gathering which fell less than a thousand below the record for a championship throng. Bleachers and grand stands were filled almost to capacity and, in contrast to the opening game, the spectators, thrilled with the closeness of the contest, rooted without cessation through the entire two hours and thirty-two minutes of play. Once the character of the contest had gripped them, men, women and boys, aided by bands and improvised noise-producers, raised a din that rattled the windows of staid backbay homes and made it impossible to hear the umpire's decisions.

Protest Against Noise.

So great was the noise that Manager Robinson finally protested to the arbiters against the blare of the bands, on the ground that his players could not hear his coaching instructions. With it all, however, the thousands were exceedingly fair in their applause and every star play of the many made by the Brooklyns was accorded the same approval as those reeled off by the smooth Red Sox machine.

Some Other Stars.

While Gainer's hit, coming as it did at the climax of a remarkable game, has earned him a place in the hall of fame reserved for baseball players, there were others whose play showed the heights to which a player can rise when occasions like that of this afternoon demand.

"Hy" Myers, already a hero, with his home run in the opening inning robbed Hooper of an extra base hit in the sixth inning, with a running catch in which he picked the ball off the grass top and finished with a complete somersault, coming up with the ball still tightly clinched in his bare hand.

Daubert took a high twisting foul far back of first base from Walsh's bat in the eleventh in a manner made famous by Hal Chase.

In the ninth Myers again temporarily saved his team from defeat with a wonderful throw to the plate which nipped Janvrin trying to score from third on Hoblitzell's deep fly to the Superbas' center field.

Ruth and Smith Praised

Great praise fell also to Pitchers Ruth and Smith, who swung through fourteen innings of the closest kind of play with a steadiness of service and pitching judgment seldom equalled. Fifty-one batters faced Smith and of this number only seven got hits for a total of 12 bases. Of the 48 that stepped before Ruth's delivery, only six got hits for a total of 10 bases. Scott was the only player to get two hits, his collection consisting of a single and a triple.

Sherrod Smith fanned only one batter, Ruth, but he did it twice, his rival hurler appearing unable to fathom his slants. Ruth fanned four, the quartet consisting of Daubert, Myers, Cutshaw and Olson.

The totals for the two games now stand:

Attendance, 77,490.
Receipts, $159,115.50.
Players' share, $85,922.37.
Each club's share, $28,640.79.
National commission, $15,911.55.

BODY OF MISSING NEGRO FOUND IN REDMOND'S CREEK

Ned Chambers Disappeared From His Home Last Thursday Morning.

The body of Ned Chambers, the negro who disappeared from his home in Wilmington last Thursday, was found by Robert Jackson and John Johnson, both colored, floating in the waters of Redmond creek, in Brunswick, about a mile west from the city, shortly before 7 o'clock last night.

As it was twilight when the body was discovered, the finders could not ascertain as to whether there were any evidences of foul play. They returned to Wilmington and notified the police, who in turn called in Coroner A. S. Holden. Investigation of the affair by the coroner, however, was halted by the discovery that the body was in Brunswick county.

The Sheriff of Brunswick gave the negro's family permission to remove the body to his home, but at a late hour last night it had not been brought over. The undertaker's representative was of the opinion that no efforts would be made to recover the body until early this morning.

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 9.—Mabel Trask won the Castleton cup race here today in straight heats while St. Frisco and Donna Clay divided second and third money. Best time 2:03 1-4.

FATIMA

A Sensible Cigarette

Such men want comfort AFTER smoking

IT'S NOTICEABLE that more and more substantial men are choosing Fatimas for their steady smoke. There must be some reason for it. Surely, these men would quickly pay a far higher price for another cigarette if it suited them better.

That is just it. No other cigarette can quite give what Fatimas give.

Some other cigarettes taste good, yes. But Fatimas do more—they are comfortable. Not only are they comfortable to the throat and tongue while you smoke them, but, much more important, they leave a man feeling keen and "fit" AFTER smoking, even though he smokes more than usual.

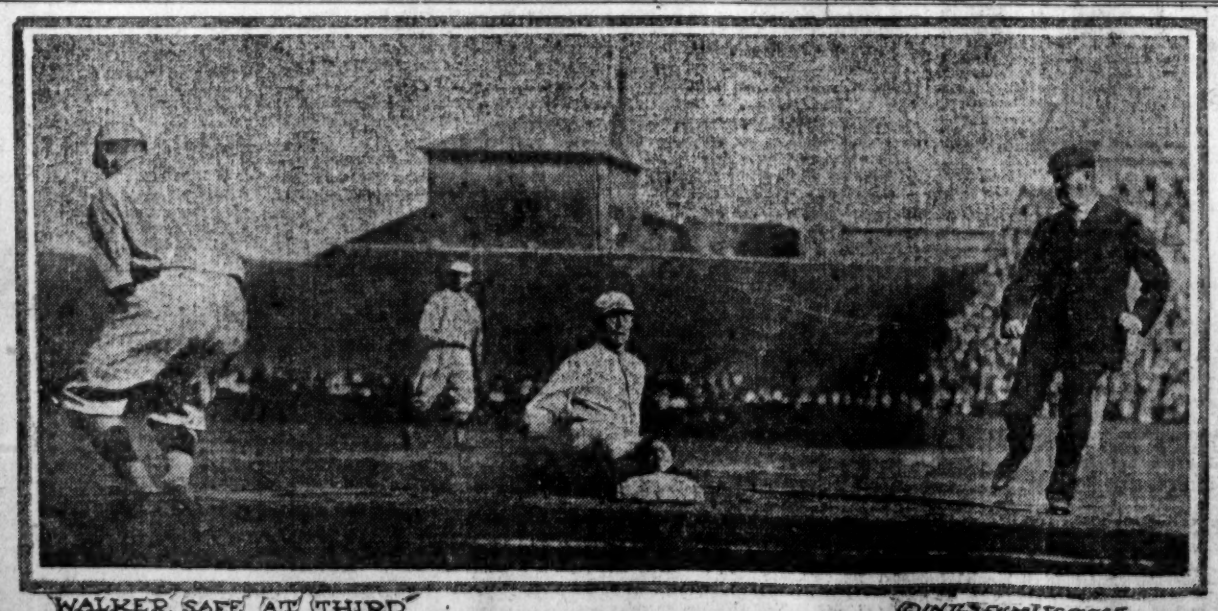
WALKER, OF THE RED SOX, MADE FIRST SAFE HIT OF THE 1916 WORLD'S SERIES.



Walker, the Red Sox's center fielder, made the first safe hit of the world's series. Hooper and Janvrin, the first two Boston players at bat, were struck out by Marquard. Walker took one strike and then walloped the ball to the left field fence for a three-base hit. This picture shows Walker as he reached the third bag. Mowrey, the Brooklyn's third baseman, is shown at the left waiting for Wheat to throw the ball in from left field. Umpire O'Day is seen at the right judging Walker safe.

LOCAL GRIDIRON SEASON WILL OPEN SATURDAY AFTERNOON.

High School Gladiators Will Try Conclusions With Picked Team.

Wilmington High School football warriors will get an opportunity to try out their mettle Saturday afternoon at Hilton Park, when they go against a picked team for the first game of the season. They will battle with the Tigers, another local combination, a week later, and then they will move on Fayetteville to tackle the Donaldson cadets in the first interscholastic game.

The locals have been practicing hard for the past two weeks and expect to be in shape to give their rivals a merry little tussle. Coach Little is very enthusiastic over the showing made in practice by his pets, and feels sure that there is the material there to make some of the other High Schools' moleskin warriors look to their laurels.

The High School athletic association recently met and elected the following officers: Bill Farmer, president; Wilbur King, secretary-treasurer; Morgan Fenley, manager football team.

MORE THAN 600 MEN MISSING FIVE DAYS

French Auxiliary Cruiser, Carrying 2,000 Soldiers, Torpedoed and Sunk Wednesday.

HER WIRELESS DESTROYED

Vessel When Struck Rendered Unable to Send Out Calls for Help—More Than 1,300 Men Aboard Have Been Picked Up.

Paris, Oct. 9.—The steamship Gallia, an auxiliary cruiser carrying 2,000 Serbian and French soldiers, was torpedoed and sunk on October 4 by a submarine. Thirteen hundred men, picked up by a French cruiser and landed in boats on the southern coast of Sardinia, have been accounted for thus far.

The torpedo caused the explosion of ammunition in the hold of the Gallia and also destroyed her wireless apparatus, making it impossible to send out calls for help. The crew and troops took to rafts and small boats, a number of which were picked up by the French cruiser. Others reported on the Sardinian shore.

The Gallia was a 15,100 ton steamship, 574 feet long and 64 feet of beam. She was built in the Seine in 1913.

Early this year Serbian troops were taken to Bizerta, Tunis, which is south of Sardinia. The Gallia may have been on her way from Tunis with troops for the Macedonian front.

London, Oct. 9.—Of the 2,000 French and Serbian troops on the liner Gallia when she was sunk, in the Mediterranean on October 4, 1,362 were saved, a Reuter dispatch from Paris says.

OVERCROWDED PRISONS SHOW THAT CRIME IS INCREASING.

Fact May be Traced in Large Part to Influence of War in Europe.

Buffalo, N. Y., Oct. 9.—Crime is increasing, as is shown by overcrowded prisons throughout the country, and the fact may be traced in large part to the influence of the European war, according to the report of the committee on discharged prisoners, presented by F. Emory Lyon, chairman, to the American Prison Association at its congress here today.

After discussing the efforts that were being made to provide friendly guardianship of discharged prisoners, as well as those on probation or parole, and pointing to the need of still further co-operation, Mr. Lyon said:

"Meanwhile, and doubtless in part because we have not approached the question from a sufficiently thoroughgoing standpoint, crime is increasing. This is no idle assertion, such as has been made several times, but rarely justified, or verified. Until the past two years, as a matter of fact, there was little, if any, evidence that crime was increasing faster than the natural increase in population. The 'count' or our penal institutions has remained about the same for nearly a generation.

"But within these two years, nearly every prison of the country has become crowded. One state in the Middle West has a thousand more convicted felons today than it had two years ago. The prison population of other states and of the Federal institutions have similarly increased. If it were not for the fact that some 10,000 men in the different states are at work upon honor farms and at road-making, the overcrowding would be more apparent than it is."

REPROACH OF THE CHURCH

Is Division, Wastefulness and Inefficiency, Says W. F. Richardson.

Des Moines, Ia., Oct. 9.—Division, wastefulness and inefficiency today, is the reproach of the church, declared W. F. Richardson, president of the general convention of the Churches of Christ, in his opening address here today to the fourth annual meeting of that organization. Te pointed to an annual convocation of the churches as the best means toward "remedying this unfortunate condition." He also pleaded for unity in the realization of the legitimacy of a missionary society as a means by which the churches may fulfill their duty.

Mr. Richardson also reviewed the accomplishments of the general convention of Churches of Christ and pointed out the scope of its future intentions.

"It is a significant fact," he remarked, "that our movement had its origin in America. We are the only religious body of considerable strength that was not transplanted from European soil. The general convention of Churches of Christ must lend its influence to make the democracy of the disciples of Christ more evident and more efficient."

DANISH SUBMARINE SINKS IN COLLISION WITH STEAMER

Crew Believed to Have Been Saved—Struck by Norwegian Ship.

Copenhagen, via London, Oct. 9.—The Danish submarine Dykkeren was sunk today after being in collision with a Norwegian steamer. The crew of the submarine is believed to have been saved.

The Dykkeren was of 132 tons gross and 114 feet long. She was driven by three screws and had a speed of 12 knots on the surface. Ordinarily she carried a complement of nine.

Cedarhurst, N. Y., Oct. 9. — Mrs. Jessie Dangerfield Keene, widow of the late James R. Keene, the horse man, died at her home here tonight, after a long illness. Mrs. Keene was born at Fox Hill, Va., 76 years ago. She is survived by a son, Foxhall Parker Keene, a daughter, Mrs. Jessie H. Frist, and three grandchildren.

Spartanburg, S. C., Oct. 9.—Leonard Bushman, of Louisville, Ky., tonight won first prize among five speakers in the intercollegiate prohibition association contest held with Converse College. LIVE STOCK CONFERENCE.

Exposition to be Held at Orangeburg, S. C., October 11-13.

Orangeburg, S. C., Oct. 9.—A live stock conference and exposition having South-wide interest, is to be held at Orangeburg on October 11-13, under the auspices of the Southern Settlement & Development Organization of Baltimore, of which S. Davies Warfield is president and the Orangeburg chamber of commerce, in co-operation with Clemson College, the state department of agriculture, the South Carolina Live Stock Association, the Orangeburg Packing Company, and the agricultural departments of the transportation lines, for the consideration of the practical problems of breeding, feeding and marketing.

Reports indicate the attendance of a record-breaking crowd and the greatest meeting of its kind ever held in the state.

The farmers and business men here are taking a keen interest in the work being done by Clemson College and the United States Department of Agriculture in the state-wide movement for diversified farming and live stock raising, and that interest has culminated in the forthcoming conference.

THOS. MOTT OSBORNE RESIGNS.

Resignation as Warden of Sing Sing is Announced.

Buffalo, N. Y., Oct. 9.—Thomas Mott Osborne's resignation as warden of Sing Sing was announced by James M. Carter, state superintendent of prisons, here today.

New York, Oct. 9.—In his letter of resignation to State Superintendent of Prisons Carter, made public here tonight, Warden Osborne said that when he returned to Sing Sing prison last July it was with the distinct assurance that the wardens of the state prisons were to be permitted full control of the details of the respective institutions under their charge, "without being subjected to the annoying and mischievous interference, to say nothing of the scandalous persecution, that made good administration at Sing Sing impossible under your predecessor."

WORKING MEN FAVOR SALE

Laborers and Artisans of Danish West Indies Vote Approval.

St. Thomas, D. W. I., Oct. 9.—The sale of the Danish West Indies by Denmark to the United States was unanimously favored by acclamation at a meeting held here yesterday, attended chiefly by working men—laborers and artisans.

This course was favored rather than the institution of reforms, under the existing regime, the transfer being held to be the only means of remedying unsatisfactory conditions on the island. A memorial to that effect was handed the delegates who are to go to Copenhagen to present the views of the islanders.

LUCK WAS WITH CAPTAIN OR HE WAS WELL ADVISED.

Boston, Mass., Oct. 9.—Luck was with Lieut. Capt. Hans Rose or the commander of the German submarine U-53 was well advised.

There was evidence today that when he went out to attack enemy shipping there was not a British warship within 500 miles of the spot which he chose to operate.

Three British cruisers arrived off Nantucket at 2:40 this morning, almost exactly 36 hours after the German submarine's entrance in Newport harbor had been made known to the world through marine men, calculated from the time summed, making allowance for the time necessary to get orders to their commanders and assuming that the ship was under full speed, that the cruiser came from a distance 450 or 500 miles, or in other words, from Halifax or Bermuda.

RESCUED CREW OF ANTILLA REACHES NEW YORK PORT.

New York, Oct. 9.—The rescued crew, 29 men, of the Ward Line steamer Antilla, which was afire off Cape Henry last night, reached here today on the Morro Castle, also a Ward liner, which arrived from Havana. Captain Blackadder, of the Antilla, and his three mates and his small daughter were taken aboard the coast guard cutter Onondaga, which stood by the burning vessel.

William E. Gonzales, American minister to Cuba, was among the Morro Castle's passengers.

NEITHER STEAMER NOR THE CUTTER HAS YET ARRIVED

Newport News, Va., Oct. 9.—Neither the steamer Antilla, afire at sea Saturday, nor the coast guard cutter Onondaga, which went to her rescue, had arrived here at a late hour tonight. The captain of a tug waiting at Old Point to meet the Antilla to bring her here for repairs, stated that she had not put in an appearance.

The last reports received here concerning the Antilla stated that the fire was under control.

RELIEVE HEADACHES WITHOUT DOSING

By Applying Sloan's Liniment to Forehead You Can Stop the Severe Pain

Many headaches are of a neuralgic origin. The symptoms of such headaches are intense and lingering pains in the brow, temples or back of the head.

There is one certain relief that has been known and recommended for years back, Sloan's Liniment. One application and the dull pain is practically gone. It is easily applied without rubbing. Rubbing is unnecessary, as Sloan's Liniment quickly penetrates to the seat of trouble.

Aching muscles, rheumatism, bruises, lumbago, chilblains, sprains and stiff neck can also be most effectively treated with Sloan's Liniment. Cleaner than mussy plasters or ointments; it does not stain the skin or clog the pores.

WILSON STRONGER AND HUGHES WEAKER DAILY

Situation in North and East, Says Pittsburg Newspaper Man

L. M. Cadison Says After Trip Through Republican Territory, That Miracle Only Can Defeat the President.

(Special Star Correspondence).

Asheville, N. C., Oct. 9.—"Woodrow Wilson's chances for four more years in the White House grow stronger daily, due to the inability of his opponent to find a real issue to raise. All this talk about two-to-one money on Hughes in New York is not borne out by actual betting." Thus asserts L. M. Cadison, prominent Pittsburg newspaper man, now living in Asheville, who has just returned from a trip to the North and East.

Mr. Cadison says that sentiment for Hughes is growing weaker as the campaign progresses and that election day is liable to find some supposedly Republican states firmly entrenched in the Democratic columns.

"I have talked to some of the most prominent men in the North and East," Mr. Cadison said, "and the consensus of opinion, especially among men controlling big business enterprises, is that Wilson will be re-elected. To all of Hughes' hearers, they explain, it is becoming more and more evident that the Republican hope has no single issue on which to make a fight, and he grows weaker everytime he speaks. The laboring men are for Wilson. His eight hour law, while rapped by a few, is proving mighty popular among the men who work for a living, and their votes are a big factor.

"Pannsylvania, generally regarded as staunchly Republican and a 'bulwark of the grand old party' is growing doubtful, due to the large number of toilers within its confines, and the sway of the big Republican leaders grows more and more unsteady. Another state that is doubtful is Massachusetts, doubtful for the first time in years and conservative estimates give the President a substantial majority there. There is scarcely a doubt about New York. The upper portion of the state may go for Hughes, but New York City is more strongly Democratic than ever before, and Wilson shares favor with Judge Seabury, who is practically certain to beat Governor Whitman in the race for governor.

"Woodrow Wilson is almost certain to be the next President of the United States. Only a miracle can prevent his re-election."

STOCK MARKET DEMORALIZED AT OPENING YESTERDAY

Heavy Breaks Attributed to German Submarine Activities.

New York, October 9. — The stock market was demoralized at today's opening, standard issues, as well as war stocks, breaking 5, 10 and even 12 points at the outset on enourmous liquidation. The break was attributed to the German submarine activities and their possible consequences.

The foremost feature was United States Steel, on an offering of 30,000 shares, at 112 to 109, representing a loss over the week-end of slightly more than 7 points.

The Mercantile Marine issues, common and preferred, were lower by 7 1-2 to 12 points. Distinctive munitions yielded 3 to 8 points.

After the most exciting half hour seen in the stock market since the panic of 1907, the tide of liquidation was stemmed by heavy volume of buying orders reported to have been sent to the market by important banking interests.

NEW HOTEL AT SWANSBORO

May be Built by Kinston Capital When Highway is Completed.

(Special Star Correspondence).

Kinston, N. C., Oct. 9.—Local capital may build a hotel at Swansboro when the proposed model highway from this city to tidewater at that point has been completed. The residents of Swansboro are in a receptive mood, as well as business men and planters all along the route. Chamber of commerce directors say a big section of country in Jones and Onslow counties, desirous of closer commercial intercourse with this city, will be given easier access to a good market by means of the highway. Swansboro itself is intended to be a summer resort town. It is ideally situated. The population is estimated to be between 500 and 700. Excellent bathing and fishing are to be had there, and several hundred Kinston people visited the place the past season. The facilities are not adequate for any great patronage yet. With the construction of a hotel, after the highway has become a reality, the promoters propose to attempt to divert motorists from up-state to Swansboro from the coast towns farther east.

SAYS HOT WATER WASHES POISONS FROM THE LIVER

Everyone Should Drink Hot Water With Phosphate In It, Before Breakfast.

To feel as fine as the proverbial fiddle, we must keep the liver washed clean, almost every morning, to prevent its spongelike pores from clogging with indigestible material, sour bile and poisonous toxins says a noted physician.

If you get headaches, it's your liver. If you catch cold easily, it's your liver. If you wake up with a bad taste, furred tongue, nasty breath or stomach becomes rancid, it's your liver. Sallow skin, muddy complexion, watery eyes, all denote liver uncleanliness. Your liver is the most important, also the most abused and neglected organ of the body. Few know its function or how to release the dammed-up body waste, bile and toxins. Most folks resort to violent calomel, which is a dangerous, salivating chemical which can only be used occasionally, because it accumulates in the tissues; also attacks the bones.

Every man and woman, sick or well, should drink each morning before breakfast, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, to wash from the liver and bowels the previous day's indigestible material, the poisons, sour bile and toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and freshening the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Limestone phosphate does not restrict the diet like calomel, because it can not salivate, for it is harmless, and you can eat anything afterwards. It is inexpensive and almost tasteless, and any pharmacist will sell you a quarter pound, which is sufficient for a demonstration of how hot water and limestone phosphate cleans, stimulates and freshens the liver, keeping you feeling fit day in and day out.

TOP O' THE MORNING.

This learned I from the shadow of a tree,
Which to and fro swayed on a garden wall.
Our shadow-selves, our influence, may fall
Where we can never be.
—SELECTED.

Wilson's way continues to win—voters.

Well, to say the least of it, the European war is coming closer home to us.

War and politics will for the next six days be pushed off the front page while the Red Sox and Robins reign supreme.

Senator Root is now a husky mud-slinger for Hughes. We are not surprised, for all roots are underground propositions.

A fellow up North claims that he has five sweethearts, but the day that his name will be mud will be when any one of the five drills him up to the altar preparatory to attaching a can to the boob.

The prosperity which the country now is enjoying may prove only temporary—just as temporary as the Democratic administration under which the prosperity came. To keep it from being temporary, keep the Democrats in power.

Judges Hughes has been severely criticising President Wilson but when his stump stuff is analyzed it demonstrates that if the Judge ever was wise it was when he was on the bench and refrained from talking and putting his foot in it.

Hughes is on the eight-hour day band wagon now whooping to beat the band, in an effort to regain the support of labor which he recently alienated by criticising Wilson for taking a stand for the eight-hour day. Wonder if he thinks the labor vote is going to leave Wilson for him at this late day.

Oh, well, some men who think they are expressing an opinion are simply interpreting their imagination into language. They even go so far as to add to it a considerable lot of boisterousness which they try to palm off on us as emphasis. Bedads, most of us meet up with the likes of them every day.

To a greater extent than any other public man we have never known, Colonel Roosevelt has taken more stands and occupied less than all the trimmers within our recollection. Previous to the Chicago convention he called Hughes "this pussyfooter and feather duster," only later to get on the Hughes band wagon and inconsistently and utterly ignore his pre-convention attitude towards the man destined to become the Republican candidate. Doing all he says is not to be expected of Teddy.

While the editorial colums of the Manufacturers Record reek with criticism of President Wilson and the Democratic administration, the balance of that great industrial and developmental journal teems with stories of Southern progress and development, the organization and establishment of new industrial enterprises and the enlargement of old ones, besides the inauguration of various and sundry developments requiring the permanent investment of vast amounts of capital. The numerous stories carried weekly in the news colums of the Manufacturers Record would not be available if capital did not foresee a continuation of the general and unsurpassed prosperity that has developed under a Democratic administration. We don't object to the Republicanism of that valued publication but we regret that its partisanship lessens its influence for Southern development.

EVEN MAKES NORTHERNERS INDIGNANT

The question of sectionalism strikes us as so absurd that we have been loath to make much reference to it, except to point out the narrow-mindedness of the Republican candidate for president, as he is the father of the Republican bogey slogan, "The South in the Saddle."

When, however, Northerners themselves are indignant that sectionalism should be sprung in such a crisis for America as this, it is time for Southerners to resent the imputations which Judge Hughes casts upon the loyal people of the South. A gentleman from Chicago, now an esteemed resident of Wilmington, brought us yesterday a copy of the Chicago Tribune of October 7. He was indignant because that narrow-minded, venomous Republican sheet was continuing its sectionalistic contributions to the Hughes campaign of sectionalism. He was plainly incensed and he not only condemned the Chicago paper but declared that under no consideration could he support for the presidency a man who would go into the White House, were he elected, as the president of only two-thirds of the country.

President McKinley did a great and noble service for our country when he discouraged sectionalism of every description. He did everything in his power to eradicate every vestage of it, and yet Judge Hughes comes along eighteen years afterward to undo what the great McKinley thought was his patriotic duty to the American Republic and all its people. He was building grandly for the future, but Judge Hughes would tear down and destroy the work of the one great statesman that the Republican party has given us for president. It certainly is to be hoped that they will not give us a president of a totally different stripe. The country wants an American President—not a Southern, not a Northern President.

Following up Judge Hughes' initiative, the Chicago Tribune features a page with an ugly attack on President Wilson and an expose of "The South in the Saddle." The Tribune points out that "Nothing like the existing Southern domination of the government has been experienced since before the Civil War." It is declared that Mr. Wilson, "born and bred a Southerner," has delivered the whole government over to the evidently hated South. The South, it says, has a big percentage of Federal jobs and cabinet positions, and "the Democratic administration has seen Southern carpetbaggers move upon the North."

A long list of Southern office holders is published so Northerners can behold "The South in the Saddle" and observes the writer: "Well, it appears to be up to the North to decide whether it is willing to carry the joy rider (the South) for four years more." That is the direct appeal to the North to do something to scotch the South. The appeal means for the North to vote for Hughes so he can do the work. He will put the South out of business and empty Southern carpetbaggers out of the saddle.

Our Illinois friend says he proposes to resent sectionalism by voting for Wilson, and he would hate to know of a Southerner who would not vote in resentment of the sectionalistic candidate for president. He can't see how a Southerner can join with those who call the able statesmen of the South a lot of Southern carpetbaggers who have foisted themselves upon the North. We can't either.

According to our Chicago friend, the sectionalism sprung in this campaign is "narrow-minded, unfair, undignified, unintelligent." What ought a true Southerner to call it?

STRONG DRIFT TOWARD WILSON

The indications are very plain that the popular tide has set strongly towards President Wilson. The eminent and prominent Republicans, Progressives and independents who have declared for him significantly presage the strength of Wilson with the masses as well. These new adherents of the President are leaders of thought and their influence with the voters in their states must be very strong. The patriotic reasons they assign for abandoning their own parties to support the Democratic candidate in this campaign are such as will appeal to all thinking and reasonable men of all political faiths.

In our own State, it is significant that such a man as the Hon. Charles F. McKesson, a life-long Republican, has declared for Wilson, as was to have been learned from a signed statement reprinted from the Charlotte Observer in yesterday's Star. We have known Mr. McKesson from our youth up and we have observed in him a man of strong and honest convictions. He takes his politics seriously and he has been a sturdy Republican from principle. At the same time, he fully recognizes his bounden duty to his country and his deep interest in his fellow man, regardless of his party loyalty, which we never have known to be questioned.

When we learned that Mr. McKesson had announced his adherence to Wilson, we knew that he was impelled to do so from strong conscientious conviction and powerful reasons. Perusal of the reasons he gives in his announcement bears out in that particular. Mr. McKesson gives as strong reasons as we have ever seen advanced as justification of support of the Wilson administration. We can't see how any patriotic Republican, much less a Democrat, can get around Mr. McKesson's array of convincing and irrefutable reasons for his decision to vote for President Wilson.

We can't fancy Mr. McKesson as a Democrat at all, but our first thought of the change that has come over him is that he is an American first of all. We know that he has had a vision of his profound duty, and no man can minimize the influence that it will have upon all reasonable men in his own party. As he intimates, this is no time for political division. Party politics have little or no bearing in such a world crisis as this country has faced for two years and will have to face in the gloomy future that is yet ahead of all nations, our own included. We have been profoundly impressed with the logic and strength of Mr. McKesson's reasons, and we confess that it enables us to realize more strongly our own conscientious duty towards America and the Wilson administration.

The news from well informed newspaper authorities at Washington is indicative of the irresistible trend in all the states towards Wilson. Mr. H. E. C. Bryant, Washington correspondent of the Raleigh News and Observer, states that the voters who hold the balance of power in this country evidently are turning to the President. It is especially significant that so many strong men are declaring for Wilson. One of those who have recently come out for Wilson is the Hon. James M. Garfield, of Ohio, son of the lamented James A. Garfield, one of our martyr presidents.

There is deep meaning in the course which such men have decided upon for themselves and their country in this campaign. Deep consciousness is moving American citizens and we may well consider our own conscientious duty at this time.

WAR ON OUR SHORES

It is not a reassuring reflection that Europe's war has been brought so close home to us. German submarine activity off Nantucket has produced a profound sensation among Americans and while the ravages, so far committed, have not been held to be a violation of American neutrality, the uneasiness and anxiety of the American people nevertheless is intense. As a matter, of course, shipping circles have been given a shock and maritime circles are justifiably in a panicky condition.

So far, American rights have been respected by the German submersible which has sunk several ships within a few miles of our Eastern coast, but there is the fearsome possibility of complications that may arise out of any long continued hostilities practically within American waters. There may be no breach of neutral rights but there is present a menace which is well calculated to disturb our peace of mind.

The sinking of some of the victim ships took place in sight of the Nantucket lightship and in sight of the American shore. Possibly the undersea craft has disappeared from those waters but there is no telling what other stretch of ocean lane may receive a visitation. The serious part of it for us at present is that while it is destructive of ally shippng only, it is a big blow to American commerce, most of which is contraband, yet very important as an export proposition for American shippers.

From a monetary point of view, submarine activity within striking distance of our ports will mount up into the millions in the decline of the price of products and the value of stocks. The loss on cotton alone would represent, at one breath, a decline of $8,000,000 to $10,000,000 provided that a recovery does not take place. Active warfare so close to us is a misfortune for the South at this time when 16 cent cotton was a reality. What the future will be only time can indicate.

The government at Washington can be relied upon to take care of American interests as they may be affected by the unwelcome eventualities that have occurred and are yet liable to happen.

NEVER TOUCHED HIM

The Durham Herald (Ind.) remarks: "The Democrats might nave been hoping to make trouble for Mr. Lacy by the appointment of that auditing committee, but they had no idea of making thunder for the Republicans."

We knew at the time that they were furnishing the Republicans a Democratic club with which to club the Democratic party, but we attributed it to the fact tha they were Democras who do not know any better than to handle a stick of dynamite like they would a fire cracker. The aim to embarrass the State Treasurer signally failed, but their blunder to make trouble for their party succeeded. They failed to make a moutnain out of a male hill, but the Republicans are now on their job. Nevertheless, the people know State Treasurer Lacy and they were with him when a few Democrats were after him. They are now with him a hundred thousand strong when Republicans vainly seek to start something with him.

The Star heretofore has called attention to the fact that the Republicans had Treasurer Lacy's books audited by experts from New York, but they got half way and came to the conclusion that Mr. Lacy was out of reach of all criticism that could be turned to political account. In fact, the auditing committee gave him a boost for his economical administration and found that the State's money was safe in his hands. Thus the State Treasurer not only has run the Democratic gauntlet, but he is proof against Republican fire. This from the Charlotte Observer is a plain statement of an incident that is set at rest by the facts:

"To the Editor of The Observer:

To settle an argument please state if the Republicans had the State's books audited as they promised to do in their State Convention.

"R. H. N.

"Mount Airy, October 4.

"(The Observer's information is that the Republicans employed auditors to go through the books, but when the auditors had half completed the task they reported that it was no use to go further int othe matter, that the books of the North Carolina Departments showed the most economical administration of affairs of any State in the Union and that the only criticism that could be made was on the score of antiquated system. The investigation was thereupon dropped.—Editor Observer.)

Judge Hughes, fearing the loss of the labor vote, finally has declared that he favors the eight-hour day for trainmen. He is too late, for they have it and they got it through President Wilson whom he has criticised on that account. He has even said that the President made a cowardly surrender to the strikers. If that means anything, it means that Judge Hughes intimates that the trainmen conspired to force their demand on the President. He now says he favors the eight-hour day, but as he criticizes Wilson for getting it by law he must be in favor of it only if the trainmen can get it by striking for it. There are only two ways that they could get it—either by ast of Congress or by a successful strike by the trainmen. Unfortunately Judge Hughes has the habit of taking a false position and then making matters worse by taking a belated position indicating his consciousness that he has put his foot in it.

MORE ABOUT OUR FISHERIES.

To the Editor of The Star:

I have read with interest the latest discussion of Mr. Fergus upon our fisheries.

I was not aware that a freshly caught mullet is covered with slime and that it requires a coating of absorbent salty sea sand to make the mullet cool and sanitary.

Evedinelty Mr. Fergus has found the fisherman he asks me to look for.

On account of the bad weather the fishermen did not do well last week. Nevertheless, among other food fish landed in the Morehead section there were two catches of mullet, one of 60,000 pounds and another of 30,000 pounds. They were sold at 3 1-4 and 3 1-2 cents a pound.

If I am not mistaken, Mr. Ives, of New Bern, to whom Mr. Fergus refers, handled the larger lot.

I have just been turning over the pages of the June, 1916, number of the National Geographic Magazine, in which is an interesting article entitled "America's Surpassing Fisheries." The author is Hugh M. Smith, United States Commissioner of Fisheries. Near its conclusion I quote from Professor Smith as follows:

"There is every reason to feel assured that our great high-sea fishing grounds will remain productive and continue to support valuable fisheries, subject to seasonable or periodic fluctuations, such as have always characterized free swimming oceanic fishes as far back as authentic records go. Periods of great scarcity such as have come to the blue-fish and the mackerel on the Atlantic coast of the United States and to the sea herring on the Atlantic coast of Europe, are to be expected, just as are periods of abnormal abundance such as characterized the menhaden in 1913 and the sword-fish in the western Atlantic for the past few years."

This appears more hopeful. Thanking you for space and assuring you that I appreciate your interest in these matters, I am, Yours very truly.

FRANK A. THOMPSON.

CURRENT COMMENT.

The Mount Airy News tells of the founding of a new creamery business in Surry county and how it came about. It relates that Mr. J. E. Dodson, of the Pilot Mountain section, has been shipping cream to a creamery in a city for some months. A few weeks ago he had reason to think that he was not getting as much for his cream as he should be allowed, and at once he began to investigate. He not only found that he was not getting enough for his product, but he also learned that it was not necessary for him to be shipping his cream to other parties. He began to make his own butter and sell it in Greensboro. In a few days he was making butter for a few of his neighbors, and in a week or two he had developed into a regular butter manufacturer. He has put in machinery and now is busy much of the time and has no trouble to find sale for all he can produce, and he also finds that there is money in the business. The News says an effort will be made to induce Mr. Dodson to move his creamery to the town of Mount Airy and enlarge the scope of his operations. From surface indications we should say that Mr. Dodson is a good man for Mount Airy or any other town to land.—Charlotte Observer.

We don't suppose Mr. Taft enjoyed, any more than you would have done, shaking hands with a man who had called him a receiver of stolen goods. But it was a case of—"to beat Wilson."—Greensboro News (Ind.)

It is given out in New York that William Barnes, better known throughout the country as "Boss" Bill Barnes, the New York Republican with whom Roosevelt had a lawsuit, is of the opinion that the ten electoral votes of Oklahoma may go to Hughes. This optimistic forecast of Barnes is based on the fact that the "grandfather clause" of the Oklahoma Constitution was knocked out by the United States Supreme Court. By reason of the elimination of the "grandfather clause" the Republicans are expecting to get the negro back into politics, and to win victory in Oklahoma by the negro vote. The Republicans in the saddle means that there is always to be expected a revival of the days when Southern states were in danger from the negro vote. How greatly the South was affected by the negro in politics is not known by the present day generation. It is being forgotten that in South Carolina a negro was Lieutenant Governor and presided over the sessions of the state senate, that in years past in the North Carolina delegation in Congress there was a negro, that negroes made disgraceful the sessions of the General Assembly of North Carolina. The movements of the Republican party may well be watched. In Oklahoma the negro vote is their dependence. There is no telling where the lust of success would carry Republicans in Southern states.—Raleigh News and Observer.

HOW TO BE SLIM

If you are too fat and want to reduce your weight 15 or 20 pounds, don't starve and weaken your system, or think you must always be laughed at on account of your fat, but go to Elvington's Pharmacy or any good druggist, and get a box of Oil of Korein capsules, take one after each meal and one before retiring at night.

Weigh yourself once a week and note what a pleasant and reliable method this is for removing superfluous fat from any part of the body.

It costs little, is absolutely harmless, and a week's trial should convince anyone that it is unnecessary to be burdened with even a single pound of unsightly fat.

When you can't get it anywhere else, just come to US. WE HAVE IT. If you can't come, call phone 126. It DOES NOT fret us when you try every other drug store before you come to us as a last resort. We can count on you coming to us FIRST, after that.

WILSON DOLLAR DAY HELPS SWELL FUND

Many Small Contributions Featured Yesterday.

Only Two Committees Reported, But Assurances of More General Support are Given—Out of Town Contributors are Heard From.

Yesterday was "Dollar Day" in the campaign being waged in Wilmington for funds to be legitimately used in the re-election of President Woodrow Wilson, there having been a large number of responses, two of them from out of the city and one from even as far as New York City.

The railroad men were heard from in dollar responses from practically every brotherhood man making his headquarters here and others will be heard from before the ten-day campaign has been closed. The committees to report were those of Mr. D. H. Howes, Jr., and Cyrus D. Hogue, Esq., but the others are expected to get in line today and throughout the remainder of the campaign and give their friends a chance to contribute. It is a fact that a large number of people are simply waiting for some member of the committee to call and as soon as the committees get right down to routine work, the fund will be consilerably swelled. Several large contributions are on the tapis and these will be announced later, but the emphasis is on the fact that this is a popular movement and where the contributor can spare but a dollar, his donation is appreciated just as much and more than the man of larger means.

The campaign for donations to the Wilson fund is occupying the thought and attention of quite a number of the good and loyal Democrats of the community. Even the ladies are taking an interest in the campaign. One of the committeemen was in receipt of a letter from a lady in New York yesterday, encloing a check for $2.00, which she desired to be added to the local Wilson fund.

The local county and city officials—those who certainly should be willing to bear their share of burden of campaign expenses—are falling in line with the workers and are putting forth their every energy both in support of the Wilson fund and the effort to get a full registration of votes in the county.

To date more than 125 Wilmington people have contributed to the Wilson fund and the Wilson club is very much pleased with the work and the outlook for even greater success.

As the time is growing short and members of the committee, of course, cannot see all that would like to contribute to this fund, The Star will be glad to receive and acknowledge any and all contributions. Not only from the city but from elsewhere, if there are those who would like to help in this great work, checks may be sent to The Star and they will be promptly acknowledged and turned over to the State Finance Committee of which Mr. Hugh MacRae, of this city, is treasurer, and Hon. A. W. McLean, of Lumberton, is chairman. The list of contributions received yesterday is as follows:

NO CHANGE IN QUARANTINE

Board of Health Authorizes County Health Officer to Carry Out Regulations—No New Cases.

Following the conclusion of a hearing conducted yesterday morning by the Board of Health in the office of Mayor F. Q. Moore to determine what further steps, if any, should be taken with reference to the quarantining of the Colonial Apartments on account of the case of infantile paralysis, which was discovered there Sunday, a resolution was adopted authorizing Dr. Chas. T. Nesbitt, county health officer, to make the necessary expenditures to carry out the regulations adopted by the board Sunday night.

No new cases were reported yesterday. However, a strict quarantine is being maintained at the apartment house, and no one is permitted to leave the building. All persons who attempt to enter, are told that if they do, they will have to stay inside of the building for the next two weeks, or the period of the quarantine. Two police officers guarded the building until noon. Later a special officer was employed by the Health Board to keep watch at the building. The two rooms used by the family in which the case occurred were thoroughly fumigated yesterday afternoon.

Despite the fact that a number of persons, for the most part lodgers at the Colonial, appeared before the Board of Health and urged that the quarantine regulations be made as light as possible, the regulations as adopted were not modified in any way, as it is felt that only the absolute essential precautions were taken in the adoption of the regulations.

So far as could be learned ther ewas no falling off in attendance in the city schools on account of the discovery of the case. Although the school authorities were unable to give the exact figures, it was stated that the attendance was as good if not better than that of the last school day of last week. No child who was exposed to the infantile paralysis case will be allowed to attend school for a period of two weeks.

Of the eight children and their families who left the Apartment house Sunday night before the quarantine guards of police officers had been fixed, four who slept in the houses of friends or relatives during the night, were visited yesterday morning by County Officer H. Mack Godwin, who, in accordance with the regulation adopted by the Board of Health, gave them the option of returning to their apartments or being quarantined where they were. Without exception, they returned to the apartment house.

Four of the children, who had been exposed to the case of infantile paralysis, it was discovered left the city late last night or early this morning. They were Mrs. C. A. Wooten and child, who left for Greensboro; Mrs. Julius Taylor and two children, who went to Jacksonville, Fla., and Mrs. Marcus Dreyfus and child, who also bought ticket for Jacksonville, according to the information obtained by the local Department of Health.

Dr. Nesbitt has notified the State authorities of South Carolina and Georgia and also the health officer at Jacksonville by wire of their departures on account of the departures being in violation of the interstate quarantine regulations, as the parents are alleged to have known that the children were in contact with infantile paralysis.

The little three-year-old son of Mr. E. C. Chandler, the discovery of whose ailment resulted in the establishment of the quarantine, is being treated in the isolation ward of the James Walker Memorial Hospital. Its condition was reported as being somewhat improved at a late hour last night.

SMOKER AT THE CHAMBER.

Dr. Owens and Mr. Rose Will Tell of New Steamship Line.

Dr. Clarence J. Owens, president of the Chinese-American Products Exchange Co., and Mr. David S. Rose, general counsel of the company, will arrive in Wilmington Wednesday night and will speak at a smoker at the Chamber of Commerce Wednesday night at 8 o'clock.

It is the intention of the Chinese-American Products Exchange Co., to inaugurate a new steamship service between Atlantic and Pacific points and the Orient, under the name of the Atlantic & Pacific Steamship Co. Norfolk is one of the ports of entry the promoters have in mind and they will visit that place before they come here. They left Washington yesterday for a tour of the South Atlantic ports.

The Wilmington people are always interested in any proposition that would tend to increase the business at this port and the Chamber readily extended them an invitation to visit Wilmington and present their proposition.

All members of the organization are especially requested to attend. It is believed that it will be a most interesting meeting and smoker.

SHIP-BUILDING OPERATIONS

Wilmington Figures in Article on Ship-Building in The World.

In a recent article setting forth in some detail the great activity which is now to be noted in ship-building operations throughout the country, the New York World has the following to say concerning the two schooners in process of construction by the Wilmington Iron Works at Eagle's Island.

"Further down the coast, the Wilmington Marine Railway, of Wilmington, N. C., is building four four-masted wooden schooners to cost $300,000 each; the Savannah Engine and Construction Company, two wooden four-master of 2,000 tons capacity for the South American trade; the Brunswick Shipbuilding Company, of Brunswick, Ga., a three-masted schooner, and the Brunswick Construction Company, four four-masters with oil engines and four five-masters with steam auxiliaries.

Preaching at Hallsboro.

Rev. J. S. Crowley has returned from Hallsboro, where he preached Sunday to large congregations both morning and evening. Mr. Crowley will conduct services again at Hallsboro on the fifth Sunday in this month when this church will celebrate the communion of the Lord's Supper.

FIRE PREVENTION DAY FITTINGLY OBSERVED

Insurance Commissioner James R. Young Principal Speaker.

Speeches Made at Each of the Six White Schools in the City—Mr. Hunt Speaks on Accident Prevention—Exercises.

With State Insurance Commissioner James R. Young, of Raleigh, as the principal speaker, Fire Prevention Day was observed at the six white schools of Wilmington yesterday, with fitting ceremonies. Mr. Raymond Hunt, assistant general manager of the Tidewater Power Company, spoke on accident prevention, and Supt. John J. Blair of the city school system, made the introductory remarks at each of the schools.

The Fire Prevention crusaders, headed by Fire Chief Charles Schnibben and a large delegation of firemen, assembled at the High School at 9 o'clock. City Council was represented by Councilmen James M. Hall, W. D. McCaig and L. M. Bunting, while Messrs. Louis Moore, Will Rehder and C. W. Rodgers were delegates from the Rotary Club. Col. Walker Taylor also attended the opening exercises at the High School and the closing meeting at the Hemenway school as a representative of the local Underwriters' Association.

The 700 pupils of the Union school gave an exhibition of their preparedness in the form of an emergency fire drill that was executed promptly and efficiently. Drills were also given at the William Hooper and the Isaac Bear Memorial schools. The welcome address of Tom Wagner, a 13-year-old eighth grader at the Union school, was one of the most pleasing features of the day's campaign. This young man is a fine speaker for his age, and his efforts won the unanimous congratulations of the visitors when he was presented to them after the exercises.

While Colonel Young and Mr. Hunt were the principal speakers at each of the schools visited ,the exercises at each varied slightly. As a rule, however, the visitors were greeted with a song, and at one, the High School, Mr. Odis B. Hinnant, made a prayer. Each school had a welcoming banner posted at some conspicuous place in the room. The most attractive of these, perhaps, were the ones at the Hemenway school. One of these was labeled "Welcome Commissioner Young," while the other bore the legend, "Hail to Our Chief Schnibben."

Col. Young Speaks.

Colonel Young proved that he was a versatile speaker by giving a different lecture at each of the schools visited. His address in each case, however, had for its keynote the great importance of fire prevention. Mr. Young's remarks in substance were:

"The school is one of the first places that should be adequately protected. The tragedies that have occurred in the various school buildings in different parts of the country have taught us that this is an institution, where fire prevention must be taught, if the necessary goal is to be reached.

"The marine distress call SOS, popularly supposed to mean 'save our souls' can also be interpreted as 'safety or sorrow'. This latter is a motto that will be of great benefit to remember in connection with fire prevention. Losses by fire cause approximately $500 per minute in the United States. Carelessness has to a great extent been responsible for the loss.

"The attic or garret is no place to throw old carpets and rubbish where the first spark that comes along will start a conflagration. Neither should a lace curtain be permitted to hang where it can blow near a gas jet. Watch those cigarette stubs, and be careful where they are thrown.

"A fire extinguisher is a mighty convenient thing to have around the house, especially in cases where no fire department is available. Hot ashes placed in wooden containers, or thrown carelessly in the proximity of some inflammable material, is a fine way to invite the fire demon to pay you a visit. Care should be exercised in burning trash and leaves.

"If cleaning is to be done with gasoline, get outside before you begin. Never attempt to cleanse gloves with gasoline while they are on the hands. Don't try to build fires with gasoline or kerosene, for to do so is to invite a terrible calamity."

Mr. Hunt's Address.

Mr. Hunt spoke on accident prevention, especially in regards to electricity. His address was as follows:

"This is an Accident prevention day as well as Fire prevention day. The advocates of Safety First conceived the idea of setting aside one day in the year particularly to educate us to reduce the number of fires and accidents. The fire loss in the United States resulted in the death of 5,000 persons last year and our accident loss was 35,000 persons killed and 2,000,000 injured, two-thirds of wnich could have been prevented.

"Electricity, when properly installed, is the safest type of lighting. Its use has become universal, not only for lighting, but for many other uses as well, such as heating, cooking ,running factories, street cars, etc. Every boy and girl should, therefore, know some of the 'Donts' to prevent injuring themselves or setting fire to their homes on account of the use of electricity.

"Don't touch any wire in the street, it might be alive, for even if it is a telephone wire, the fact that it is down indicates trouble. It may be crossed with a high power wire. Call the police or the power company or the telephone company. If you have the Boy Scout instinct, stand by and see that no one else touches it. Remember: Any wire may be a 'live wire.' Don't touch it. 'If it is alive, you are dead'.

"Don't alter or change any lighting wires in your houses, it is against the city ordinance and the State law. You may cause a fire or be severely shocked yourself. Bad joints, defective wires and improper connection cause fires.

"Don't hang lamp cord on a gas jet, pipe or nail. The electricity might burn a hole in the gas pipe, igniting the gas and burn up your house. Electric wires should always be insulated from gas or water pipes.

"Don't use a paper shade on an electric light or put the lamp against any inflammable material. If a lamp is to be carried around, it should have the extra heavy cord and an approved lamp guard.

"Don't touch an electric wire or brass socket while standing on the ground or cement floor, or while touching a water pipe or gas pipe, they are always grounded. If necessary to turn on an electric light while on the ground, touch only the insulated key. It is better to have porcelain sockets at such points.

"Don't attempt to fix the electric lights when the safety fuse blows unless you know how.

"When the safety fuse blows, it is a sign of trouble in your house wiring, possibly a defective electric iron cord, or plug, or lamp socket, or lamp cord, or wire grounded. The Tidewater Power Company will promptly send an electrician up to your house and locate the trouble and supply a new fuse free of charge, so why take the risk yourself.

"Don't touch lighting or telephone wires or metal parts of same during a lightning storm.

"Remember that every house is provided with a main line switch which, when opened, cuts the electricity off of all the house wiring.

"In case any wire is burning in the house, open this main switch. You will find it just ahead of the meter.

"Don't play around cars or on bridges or car tracks.

"Don't hitch onto street cars, automobiles or wagons, or use roller skates near street car lines.

"The Horse Shoe and the Four Leaf Clover will not protect your home or yourself, but 'Sense and Caution' will. One think before an accident is worth a million thinks afterward.

"Better be safe than sorry."

Col. Walker Taylor made a few remarks at the High School and later delivered a short address at the Hemenway school. At nearly every school a rising vote of thanks was extended to the visitors.

LEAVE FOR THE CONVENTION

Bishop T. C. Darst Heads Wilmington Delegation to St. Louis for Triennial Gathering.

Bishop Thomas C. Darst, of the Diocese of East Carolina, headed the Wilmington delegation, which left Sunday afternoon for St. Louis, where the 44th triennial convention of the Protestant Episcopal church will meet tomorrow. Bishop Darst was accompanied by Mrs. Darst and the other members of the delegation from this city were Rev. Dr. Wm. H. Milton, rector of St. James' church, and Archdeacon T. P. Noe.

A feature of the convention will be the celebration of the 50th anniversary of the election to the Episcopacy of Bishop Tuttle, of Missouri, the oldest bishop of the American church. This venerable bishop was in Wilmington two years ago upon the occasion of the consecration of Bishop Darst.

This is the first time that the general convention has ever met west of the Mississippi river. Each of the 68 dioceses has four clerical and four lay delegates, the 23 missionary districts have one clerical deputy and 10 foreign jurisdictions will have a representative. In addition to these 600 clerical and lay deputies, 122 bishops will attend.

The convention sits as two houses, the House of Bishops and the House of Deputies, each having a vote upon the other. Its primary object is the making of laws for the Protestant Episcopa lchurch. The legislation is operative at once. The House of Bishops fills vacancies in the Missionary Episcopate with the concurrence of the lower house.

There are 14 standing committees in the House of Deputies, these being appointed by the president. In addition there are ten committees or commissions of the House of Bishops.

Among the important subjects now under consideration by these bodies are the relation of the Episcopal church to other Christian communions; revision and enrichment of the Prayer Book; Christian education; the divorce problem; missionary organization; the election of a Bishop for negroes in the United States and an adequate pension system for the clergy.

DISTRICT MEETING HERE.

Pamlico Convention to be Held in Dock Street Christian Church.

The members of Dock Street Christian church are looking forward with much interest to the Pamlico District convention which is to be held in Wilmington, October 28th and 29th. Indications are that there will be a large number of delegates in attendance. Prominent ministers from all parts of the district will be present at the meeting and the Wilmington members of this denomination will do everything possible to make it one of the most helpful ever held in this city.

Closely following this will be the State, convention of the Disciples of Christ which will be held at Kinston, November 13th to 16th, and there is every indication for a large attendance at this meeting also. The Kinston membership has arranged an interesting programme and are making plans to entertain the visitors royally. In addition to the number of ministers in this State, several preachers of National reputation will be on the programme.

GOES TO ST. LOUIS.

Archdeacon Noe Attending Conference of Examining Chaplains.

Archdeacon Thomas P. Noe has gone to St. Louis to attend a conference of the Examining Chaplains of the Episcopal church on Theological Education. The conference is called in connection with the General Convention, in session at St. Louis, and will last for three days.

Archdeacon Noe is one of the speakers on the topic, "The requirements for men seeking our ministry from other Christian bodies, both Episcopal and non-Episcopal; (a) literary, (b) theological, (c) personnal."

Mr. Noe is examining chaplain of East Carolina and a member of the Provincial Board of Religious Education for the Province of Sewance.

OFFICERS FOR CREDIT UNION

Enthusiastic Meeting of Stockholders of New Organization at Scott's Hill Held Last Night.

Officers for the Credit Union, recently organized at Scott's Hill, were elected at an enthusiastic meeting of the members which was held in the school house at that place last night. Mr. E. E. Culbreth, assistant superintendent of Credit Unions for the State, and Mr. J. P. Herring, farm demonstrator, attended the meeting and made short addresses.

The new union starts out with 14 members, who have paid their membership dues, while a number of others have promised to become members. The cost for a membership is $10 while anyone in the community can make deposits. It is desired to secure everyone in the community, either as a member or a depositor. The total amount paid in last night was $131 but it is expected that this will be greatly increased within a short time.

Officers were elected for the union as follows: President, Mr. G. A. Huggins; vice-president, Mr. L. A. Covil; secretary and treasurer, Mr. R. L. Foy. The board of directors is composed of the officers together with Messrs. J. T. Foy and J. T. Culbreth.

The members of the credit committee are: Messrs. J. Sidbury, R. T. Shingleton and N. Sidbury.

The supervisory committee is composed of Messrs. J. W. Foy, W. T. Canady and V. R. Sidbury.

Mr. Culbreth, who will go to East Arcadia today to assist in the organization of a Credit Union, was enthusiastic over the splendid outlook for the new organization, and was especially impressed with the great interest that the members have in the new organization.

The office of the union will be at the home of the secretary, Mr. R. L. Foy, who will receive deposits on each Saturday. As soon as the union has sufficient funds, it will begin making loans for farm improvements to members. The funds of the institution will be deposited in a local bank.

Steps towards organizing a farm loan association, under the provisions of the National Rural Credits law, will be taken at a meeting of the Wilmington Co-Operative Truck Growers' Association, in this city on Thursday night, according to Mr. J. P. Herring, and all the farmers in the county who are interested in securing long time loans are urge dto be on hand.

DONATIONS ASKED

Associated Charities to Aid Deserving Poor of City.

In view of the fact that the winter season is rapidly approaching, the Board of Associated Charities at a meeting held yesterday morning with Rev. Dr. A. D. McClure, the president, presiding, decided that an appeal should be made to the public at once for contributions for carrying on the work of the board.

It was decided to purchase wood at once as it can be had more cheaply now than later in the season. The fact that the board's bank account has been slightly overdrawn in supplying the necessities of the deserving poor of the city, is given as an additional reason why donations by the public will be most thankfully received at this time.

WHY MEN GO TO CHURCH.

Ministers Discuss Means of Enlarging Their Congregations.

Wilmington ministers are planning for a great "Go To Church" movement in Wilmington, beginning the first Sunday in November, the time selected by the Christian Men's League, and at the regular weekly meeting of the Ministerial Association yesterday, an interesting paper on "Why Men Go to Church," was read by Rev. M. T. Plyler, pastor of Grace Methodist church.

The ministers discussed several routine matters connected with their work in the city. Rev. J. A. Sullivan, president of the association, presided at the meeting.

COMMITTED TO JAIL.

Two Negroes are Commited on Charges of Larceny by Justice Harriss.

Tony Wright and John Hill, both colored, were arrested yesterday by County Officer H. Mack Godwin on charges of larceny and later committed to the county jail pending a hearing of the charges preferred against them.

Wright is charged with having stolen a quantity of fertilizer from Swift & Company several months ago. Hill is charged with the larceny of growing crops, to wit: five dozen collards and a bushel of sweet potatoes from the Tingo farm on the Castle Haynes road a few days ago.

Y. M. C. A. SPEAKERS' CLUB.

Members Held Interesting Session at Association Last Night.

At a meeting of the members of the Y. M. C. A. Speakers' Club held last night at the Association building, Rev. J. E. Reynolds outlined the course of study which will be offered members who take the subject of debating.

Dr. E. S. Bulluck led the class in "Public Speaking." Following which some half dozen members of the club engaged in extemporaneous speaking. The first regular debate of the club will be held next Monday. Five new members joined the club at the meeting last night.

"GET TOGETHER" MEETING

Members of Bladen Street Methodist Church Will Meet Tonight.

The members of Bladen Street Methodist church will hold a "get together" meeting at the church tonight at 8 o'clock. This meeting was planned for last Tuesday night but had to be postponed on account of the inclement weather. All the members of the congregation are quested to attend. Plans for carrying on the future work of the church will be discussed.

For All Complexion Ills

If the skin be colorless, sallow, muddy, over-red, blotchy or freckled, nothing will so surely overcome the condition as ordinary mercolized wax. It literally takes off a bad complexion—absorbs the dead and near-dead particles of surface skin, gently, gradually, causing no inconvenience at all. A new complexion is then in evidence, clear, spotless, delicately soft and beautiful. One ounce of this wax, procurable at any drugstore will rejuvenate even the worst complexion. It is used like cold cream.

TINY PRISONER NABBED.

Diminutive Negro Brought to City Hall on Assault Charge.

A policeman, patrolling the streets with a mouse trap on his arm would be an unusual sight, but a mouse trap is just what Policeman J. O. Bullard needed to house one of his captures yesterday.

Shortly before 7 o'clock last night, the patrol wagon was summoned to Fifth and Red Cross streets to get a negro arrested by Officer Bullard. The big motor wagon lumbered to the scene to find the vigilant officer calmly patrolling his beat with a wee mite of ebony colored humanity held between his thumb and finger.

As both the officers on duty with the wagon were strictly temperate, they began to pinch themselves to see if they were awake. On finding that they were, they began to wonder what had happened that they were seeing things. Vaguely to the mind of one of the officers came the words of a poem that he had learned in his school days, "The World Turned Upside Down."

Officer Bullard ended their dreams by bringing his prisoner over to the wagon and requesting that it be locked up on a charge of assault. The tiny prisoner was brought to the station house and given the once over by Chief Williams, who then recognized him in the custody of his father, for his appearance at this morning's session of the Recorder's court.

The boy's name is John Washington, and he is alleged to have assaulted a little white boy, the son of Mr. E. L. Potts.

DECIDE ON LOCATION SOON.

Executive Committee at Work Arranging for the Corn Show.

The location for the Wilmington Corn Show, in which there has been manifested so much interest and which is the important feature that will go a long way toward the success of the show, will be determined within the next day or so, and it is reasonably certain at this time that it will be a central down-town location.

The show is attracting more than ordinary notice already. The committees have made a good start this year, which bids fair to make the show not only representative of the nine counties in the territory, but one of the best agricultural fairs ever held in North Carolina.

There will be plenty of space this year, not only for local and agricultural exhibits, but also for all outside concerns that desire to purchase space for exhibition purposes. This is one feature that has been called to the attention of the leading merchants and business houses of Wilmington and with their co-operation it is believed that this part of the show will be considerably larger and of more importance than last year. A scale of rates for exhibit space will be announced within the next few days.

The Executive committee of the Corn Show will meet today and determine many of the important matters that are awaited by the public with interest.

MANY TO ATTEND.

Many Endeavorers Leave For Convention at Wallace.

A large delegation of local members of the organization went up yesterday morning by train to Wallace, where they will attend the Junior Rally of the Christian Endeavor Convention of the local district.

An attractive programme has been arranged for the convention, which will last through a night session today. Those who have not been able to attend the morning or afternoon sessions can go up on the regular evening train today and return on another train leaving Wallace shortly after midnight.

Among the speakers who will deliver addresses at the convention is Capt. J. P. Russell, of Lumberton. Captain Russell is an orator of ability and will have something worth while to say.

NEW FIXTURES WILL BE INSTALLED AT BON MARCHE

In Preparation For Formal Opening, New Fixtures Will be Added.

In preparation for its formal opening, announcement was made yesterday by the management of the Bon Marche that many new fixtures will be added to the equipment of the store.

The re-modeling of the store is being pushed rapidly and the new fixtures will be installed as fast as they can be received from the manufacturers.

The Wilmington store will be managed on the same lines as those which have proved so successful in operation of the firm's Asheville store. The line of goods carried will be strictly first-class and up-to-date.

Dies in Asheville.

The many friends here of Mr. F. E. Mitchell, one of the State managers of the Prudential Insurance Company, will regret to learn the news of his death which occurred recently at his home in Asheville, N. C.

FEEL ALL USED UP?

Lots of Wilmington People Do.

Does your back ache constantly?
Do you have sharp twinges when stooping or lifting?
Feel all used up—as if you could just go no farther?
Why not look to your kidneys?
Why not use Doan's Kidney Pills?
Wilmington people have done so.
They tell you the result.

Mrs. W. H. Turley, 1007 E. Fourth St., Wilmington, says: "My back was so weak that I couldn't do my housework, as the least exertion tired me out. My kidneys became inactive and my limbs were swollen. I was nervous nd despondent nd couldn't get any rest, day or night. Finally, I got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at Bellamy's Drug Store. My back soon felt stronger and my kidneys acted more regularly. I kept on using them and when I had finished six boxes the swelling in my limbs disappeared and I felt like a different person."

Price 50c., at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy — get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Turley had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

COUNTRY CLUB HAS MEETING

Work on Extension of Golf Links is Progressing Satisfactorily—Officers Are Re-Elected.

That the work of extending the golf links is progressing in a most satisfactory manner and will be completed probably by December 15th, was the interesting information contained in the reports of the officers of the Cape Fear Country Club at the annual meeting which was held last night at the club house in East Wilmington.

A large number of the members of the club went down on a special car. The officers also reported a large increase in membership for the year. The finances of the club are in good shape and the future outlook was never brighter.

The golf courses are now in splendid condition and the indications that some fine playing on the greens may be expected this fall by the local members. The club's season will open shortly.

The members of the club were very much pleased over the highly satisfactory manner in which the affairs of the organization have been conducted by the present officers and they were each honored with re-election for a third term with the exception of the captain of the greens. This latter position is one that is usually rotated at the end of each year as it entails much work with no remuneration and little thanks ordinarily. However, the retiring captain of the greens, Mr. J. W. Carmichael, has been a very faithful official and performed the trying duties of his position in very creditable manner.

The officers re-elected for a third term are: President, Mr. J. F. Sears; vice president, Mr. John R. Murchison; secretary and treasurer, Mr. R. C. James. Mr. J. C. McEachin was elected captain of the greens and Mr. George E. Kidder was re-elected as captain of tennis. These officers, together with Messrs. W. A. French and J. F. Roache constitute the board of directors for the ensuing ytar.

At New Hope Church.

Rev. J. S. Crowley will conduct services in the New Hope Presbyterian church on next Sunday. New Hope is a live church and the people have manifested much interest in the cause of the Christian religion.

To Hold Protracted Meeting.

A protracted meeting will begin at Dock Street Christian church on next Sunday morning. Rev. J. E. Reynolds, pastor of the church, will do the preaching. The public is invited to attend these meetings.

at least once a day. Wash thoroughly with a warm, creamy lather of it, then rinse the face with plenty of cold water

It does not often take many days of such regular care with Resinol Soap to show an improvement, because the Resinol medication soothes and refreshes the skin, while the perfectly pure soap is cleansing it.

WHITE MAN IS FINED FOR ALLEGED ASSAULT ON NEGRO

Other Cases Before Recorder Yesterday Were of Minor Importance.

The chief sufferer at yesterday morning's session of the Recorder's court was Daniel Padrick, white, charged with assault with a deadly weapon on a negro Saturday night, who was fined $10 and costs.

According to the testimony of the defendant in the case, while he was passing a crowd of negroes at Eighth and Dawson streets on the night in question, some one in the crowd threw a rock which struck him. The witness added that he went home and got his revolver and coming back saw a negro he thought threw the missile enter Mr. S. J. Bryan's store nearby.

Other witnesses testified that the defendant backed the negro into a corner and afterwards drew a pistol on him, at which juncture Mr. Bryan intervened and stopped any further demonstrations. The defendant admitted that he did not know whether the man he saw in Bryan's store was the man who threw the rock or not.

Among the other cases disposed of by continuance or otherwise were those of Mary Mallett, colored, who was charged with assault, but Recorder Empie ruled that the prosecution was malicious and taxed the prosecution with the costs; Robert Douglass, colored, charged with non-support, whose case was continued; Joe Jones, colored, charged with cruelty to animals, in whose case prayer for judgment on good behavior was continued.

STROLLERS QUARTETTE PLEASES

First Number on Lyceum Course Entertained Last Night.

A fair sized audience greeted the Strollers Quartette at St. Andrews Presbyterian church last night. The company gave a very creditable performance and the audience immensely pleased with the programme that was rendered. Mr. Palmetter in his reading and character songs was the favorite of the evening.

This was the first of the lyceum series given under the auspices of the St. Andrew's Brotherhood. The management is greatly disappointed at the sale of season tickets, which has fallen far short of expectations. They are expecting the people of the city to come to their aid with the future numbers of the course.

Mr. S. A. Hains, president of the Brotherhood, made a brief introductory speech before the opening of the entertainment. Tickets will be on sale at Platt's store on Market street.

SERVICE

THEATRICAL

Today the Royal presents another great William Fox triumph, the latest great release from these studios being "A Woman's Honor," a sensational five-act photoplay feature starring one of the new "finds" of the year, Jose Collins, one of the most beautiful leading women on the screen.

It is easy enough to tell a screen player when you see one, just as it is easy enough to identify an actor or an actress who wishes to be a screen star, but fails. Unless we are very much mistaken, Miss Collins has the makings of a genuine screen star. Her presence, her features, her animation, her command of restraint, and her ability to hold dramatic scenes are clearly shown. It is her work, more than anything else, which puts this picture over. Having seen its reception by an audience in one of Mr. Fox's New York houses, we feel justified in saying that the picture does get over, although if we had not witnessed its effect on an audience we would still be certain of the appeal of Miss Collins' acting, and of the dramatic worth of the picture.

In addition, the picture has a variety of setting that is truly gratifying. The scenes are laid in Naples (the atmosphere of which is admirably gained by Jamaican locations and one or two street sets), in the Pennsylvania coal region, and in New York. Throughout, the staging is elaborate and remarkably pleasing to the eye. There are some excellent lighting effects, and other evidences of superior direction.

Rose Tapley at Grand.

Rose E. Tapley, the beautiful Vitagraph leading lady, has the principal role, with a superb cast of a half dozen of Vitagraph's biggest stars in her support, in a magnificent three-part Vitagraph Broadway Feature, which has top position on today's all-feature bill at the Grand.

"The Secret Seven," is the title, and Just ask someone who saw it yesterday if you want to make sure.

"Peg 'O the Ring" Today.

The 13th great chapter of that stirring serial "Peg O' the Ring," only three weeks removed from the grand finale, is as full of action as any two reels of motion picture you have ever seen on a screen anywhere. This is absolutely guaranteed to everyone who visits the Bijou today, where it will be presented as the day's headliner attraction. Grace Cunard and Francis Ford, right in the thick of some of their greatest obstacles, pull off some typical stunts that you would know was done by them "in the dark". There is no couple on the screen who can put over big scenes exactly like this great couple, and you don't want to miss their great work in today's chapter of this great serial.

That famous English screen beauty, Ivy Close, appears with Henry Murdock in another one of those great Kalem comedy features, "Rival Artists" in which her dazzling beauty has a startlingly realistic background.

Another one of those great Tom Mix comedies, "The Raiders," stars this inimitable screen comedian with Victoria Forde, and furnishes one of the biggest bills of the week at the Bijou.

New Serial at Bijou.

"The Shielding Shadow", the new wonder serial in 15 episodes, is at last offered to moving picture audiences who have waited eagerly for another thriller by the author of the famous "Iron Claw."

"The Shielding Shadow" is a mystic, shadowy form with dead white hands and burning eyes that hovers protectingly near the beautiful Leontine whenever she is in danger. Her life is plunged into mystery and dangerous adventure from the day she marries a wealthy Spaniard, Sebastian Navarro, to save her father from financial ruin.

Today's Great William Fox Feature at the Royal, Starring Beautiful Jose Collins.

is a story of mystery, intrigue and detective business that will hold you spellbound from the first to the last flash. For 45 minutes you will sit enthralled at the daring, dazzling acting of Rose Tapley, with the greatest supporting cast ever seen in a Vitagraph production.

There is another feature on today's bill—a great two-reel Essanay feature drama, "Peter the Hermit," starring beautiful Nell Craig in the leading role, supported by inimitable John Junior, Harry Durkinson and Vivian Palmer.

John Junior does a great piece of acting in this two-reeler in his delineation of Peter, a young scientist who ruins his health by working on a treatise on ants. Like the ants he writes about, Peter crawls away to die. He gets in with a group of tramps and forgets his ill health. He becomes their leader and wheedles them into working on a wealthy man's estate, whose daughter he rescues. His book is a success and his health restored he reaps his reward. It is a delightful comedy drama, and serves to make of today's bill a magnificent five-reel show, all for five cents.

"Best Yet," at Victoria.

When you were told in this column yesterday that you would see the best show yet at the Victoria today, you were told actual facts—you are now agreeing with us, and what is still better, you are telling your friends this morning what a good show they missed last night, at least those few who were not there, for the house was packed from top to bottom with the most appreciative crowd of the season.

For the Winter Garden Girls Company is absolutely the most enjoyable troupe of artists yet seen on the Victoria stage. It is not altogether what they do but how they do it that makes the show go over so big, and it did go over big with a capital "B". Jack Grant is easily the star of the show, although it is unfair to single any particular one out for mention. His blackface characterisation is the most enjoyable piece of comedy that has ever been presented at the Victoria. His style is entirely new to Wilmington and it has a refreshing newness that is bound to make a great hit in Wilmington.

Miss Lola Vann, as his able assistant in the comedy roles was also one of the best seen here this season and they are certainly one finished team.

The Hurleys, a very pretty little bit of femininity and a handsome dashing young chap, put over some harmony singing that brought down the house at every performance. A half dozen of the niftiest and neatest chorus girls yet seen put over the different song numbers with the aid of the principals in neat manner, and the new and nifty costumes and pretty and appropriate special scenery added greatly.

CAPT. J. D. CURTIS DEAD

Seaboard Conductor Stricken at Aberdeen, Dies at Hamlet.

(Special Star Telegram).

Hamlet, N. C., Oct. 9.—Capt. J. D. Curtis, a conductor on the Seaboard, was stricken with paralysis at 6 o'clock this morning at Aberdeen and died at the Hamlet Hospital at noon. Captain Curtis had just gone on duty and was in the act of turning a switch to let his train out of the siding at Aberdeen when he was seen to fall. Immediately he was given attention but never regained consciousness.

Captain Curtis was 38 years old and about three years ago married Miss Lovie Swain, of Liberty. He is survived by his wife, mother, Mrs. Mary Curtis, of Liberty; two brothers, Dave Curtis, of Ramseur, N. C., and P. R. Curtis, of Liberty, N. C. The funeral will be held at Liberty on Tuesday afternoon. Several years ago Captain Curtis received a severe blow on the head, which from time to time still gave him trouble and his friends think the blow was the ultimate cause of his death.

ANXIETY AMONG SHIPPERS

Some Sailings May Be Cancelled or Routes Changed.

Philadelphia, Oct. 8.—News of the German submarine activities off the New England coast caused considerable anxiety in shipping circles here. Nearly a score of vessels are loading supplies for the Allies and shipping men said it is possible that some sailings wil be cancelled or routes changed.

Three vessels which sailed from Philadelphia recently under foreign registry carrying cargoes consigned to the Allies' ports are believed to be menaced by the submarine operations. They are the British steamship Media, which cleared from here yesterday for St. Nazire, the French steamer Ville De Majunga, wit ha cargo of lubricating oil for Gibraltar, and the British steamer Meteor for London. The Media and Meteor carry general cargoes.

SENATOR SIMMONS TO SPEAK

Will Deliver an Address in Fayetteville on October 19th.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Fayetteville, N. C., Oct. 9.—Announcement has been made by Chairman R. H. Dye, of the Cumberland county Democratic executive committee, that Senator F. M. Simmons will speak here on Thursday, October 19th. Mr. Simmons is very strong in Cumberland and the neighboring counties, and local Democrats are predicting a large crowd in Fayetteville on the 19th. This will be the first time Mr. Simmons has spoken here since he was made head of the powerful Finance committee of the Senate.

Says Big Eaters Get Kidney Trouble

Take a Glass of Cold Water and Kidneco to Flush Kidneys, if Back Hurts

Omit All Meat From Diet if You Feel Rheumatic or Bladder Bothers.

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble, because we eat too much and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uric acid which the kidneys strive to filter out, they weaken from overwork, become sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead, your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times headache, or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from any druggist about one dozen kidneco tablets; take one with a glass of water before each meal for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous remedy is made from perfectly harmless ingredients and acts quickly and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys; to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Kidneco is inexpensive; cannot injure, make no mistake, insist on kidneco; it belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time.

Fat Folks May Now Become Slim Quickly

Be Moderate in Your Diet, Breathe Deeply, and Take Tasseo.

Fat persons, particularly those from 10 to 30 pounds above normal weight, will be interested to learn that they may easily reduce their weight without starvation diet or tiresome exercise.

This can best be done by being moderate in your diet, so that you will not overtax your assimilative organs, by getting plenty of fresh air, by breathing deeply and by taking tassco four times a day.

Tassco may be obtained from any druggist in 5-grain tablets. Take one after each meal and one before retiring at night. They cost little, are absolutely harmless, are pleasant to take, and are designed to reduce fatty accumulations in the system, wherever located.

A few days' treatment should show a noticeable reduction in weight, the flesh should become firm, the skin smooth and the general health improved, in fact your footsteps should even become lighter, your work seem easier and a lighter and more buoyant feeling take possession of your whole being.

Every person who is 10 or 20 pounds over normal weight should surely give this treatment a trial. You will probably find that it is just what you need.

FAMILY AVOIDS SERIOUS SICKNESS

By Being Constantly Supplied With Thedford's Black-Draught.

McDuff, Va.—"I suffered for several years," says Mrs. J. B. Whittaker, of this place, "with sick headache, and stomach trouble.

Ten years ago a friend told me to try Thedford's Black-Draught, which I did, and I found it to be the best family medicine for young and old.

I keep Black-Draught on hand all the time now, and when my children feel a little bad, they ask me for a dose, and it does them more good than any medicine they ever tried.

We never have a long spell of sickness in our family, since we commenced using Black-Draught."

Thedford's Black-Draught is purely vegetable, and has been found to regulate weak stomachs, aid digestion, relieve indigestion, colic, wind, nausea, headache, sick stomach, and similar symptoms.

It has been in constant use for more than 70 years, and has benefited more than a million people.

GOVERNOR CRAIG WILL ENTER THE CAMPAIGN

Makes Initial Speech at High Point Thursday Night.

Other State Officers Speaking—Secretary Rankin Finds Soldiers' Home in First Class Condition. Raleigh News.

(Special Star Correspondence).

Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 9.—Governor Craig is to make his first campaign speech in Guilford, his appointment being at High Point on Thursday night. He will make a number of other speeches during the next several days thereafter in Franklin, Jackson, Buncombe, Rutherford, McDowell and Lee counties.

There will probably be other appointments assigned to the Governor before the campaign closes.

Dr. J. Y. Joyner, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, will not get in the campaign at all, on the ground that the Department of Education must be as far as possible non-partisan. He said today "It is the educational campaign that I am in."

Col. J. Bryan Grimes, Secretary of State, went to Southern Pines for a campaign speech this evening and has appointments in Cabarrus county October 11 and in Rutherford, Lincoln, Yadkin, Wilson, Chowan, Perquimans, Tyrrell, Washington, Edgecombe and Beaufort within the next two weeks.

Col. W. P. Wood, State Auditor, will not get into the campaign until about October 20. He will go into Cabarrus, Chatham, Davie, Davidson, Moore, Montgomery, Rutherford, Yadkin, Wilkes, Randolph and other counties in rapid succession after his initial speech in Cabarrus.

Soldiers' Home O. K.

Dr. W. S. Rankin, Secretary of the State Board of Health, having made a rigid inspection of the North Carolina Soldiers' Home October 1, has written President A. H. Boyden, of the board of directors, that he found the institution in remarkably good condition. He rated the home on the same per centage basis that he applies to hotels in inspecting them, and found that it easily graded out "fair" in every particular. Dr. Rankin was especially pleased at this as very few of the hotels in the State make a better average and the home is necessarily much more difficult to hold up to such a standard. The fact is conditions have even improved beyond that of October 1 with changes that the new officers, Superintendent Milton and Mrs. Mixon, the new matron, have inaugurated. Mrs. Mixon is giving particular attention to the kitchen and dining room managements.

Anti-Saloon League Demands.

Supt. R. L. Davis, of the North Carolina Anti-Saloon League, has issued a statement reiterating the demands that his organization will make on the next General Assembly for the tightening of the prohibition law and making more difficult the procurement of liquors even for original beverage and medical purposes. He is asking the temperance forces in the State to interrogate their candidates for the Legislature as to how they stand on these advance regulations and restrictions and support those who promise to stand for them regardless of politics. The amendments to the temperance laws demanded include prohibition of storing and keeping of liquors in clubs and other public places for beverage purposes; prevent advertising liquors, even to prohibition of circulation of newspapers and periodicals containing whiskey advertisements; cut out the manufacture and sale of wine and hard cider; prohibit delivery of liquors by public carriers; prohibit possession of more than one gallon of liquors; provide for the seizure and confiscation of any vehicle or other property used for illegally handling or transporting liquors.

Superintendent Davis declares that from the way the temperance forces are lining up there will be no difficulty in exacting these advance measures of the next Legislature.

New Bleachers For A. & M.

The Wake County Alumni Association of A. & M. College, has just launched a movement for the alumni of the college in and out of the State to provide before the coming Thanksgiving football game a series of standard concrete bleachers for the athletic grounds out at the college. At a meeting last night $125 was subscribed for the purpose, this being merely the beginning within a very small group of the alumni. The success of the undertaking is believed to be assured. A. T. Bowler, of Raleigh, has been chosen president for the next year; Frank Thompson, Raleigh, vice-president, and Edison Green, of Raleigh, secretary-treasurer.

Dr. George R. Ramsey, Dr. Charles E. Brewer and Dr. M. H. Stacy have been designated as a special committee to undertake the formation of a new department for the North Carolina Teachers' Assembly during the session here Thanksgiving week. It is to be known as the department for higher education.

Educational Secretary W. C. Crosby, of the Farmers' Union work in this State, says there is unusual activity in the formation of new unions in many parts of the State. He has just assisted in forming a union of 35 members at Union Hope, in Nash county. He notes with gratification, that the primary purpose of these unions has shifted from "defense' 'to simple co-operation for improvement of farming conditions, including, particularly, the improvement of farm homes.

THE FARM LOAN BOARD WILL VISIT NINE SOUTHERN CITIES

Will Hold Hearing in Raleigh on October 24th, as to Location of Bank

Washington, Oct. 9.—The Federal Farm Loan Board will hold hearings in nine Southern cities this month for the purpose of collecting information for its guidance in dividing the country into 12 farm loan districts. A farm loan bank is to be established in each district.

The board announced today that it will leave Washington Sunday, October 22nd, and the first hearing will be at Richmond on October 23. The hearing last will be at Memphis on November 1, the board returning here November 3. The itinerary as announced follows:

Richmond, Va., October 23; Raleigh, N. C., October 24; Columbia, S. C., October 25; Jacksonville, Fla., October 26; Macon, Ga., October 27; Birmingham, Ala., October 28; New Orleans, October 30, Jacksonville, Miss., October 31; Memphis, November 1.

Texas and the Southwest will be visited later, it was announced.

OUTGOING SHIPS HESITATE

Foreign Shipping at Baltimore Is Practically Paralyzed.

Baltimore, Md., Oct. 8.—Foreign outgoing shipping has been practically paralyzed by the submarine activity off the Atlantic coast. Seven British steamers which cleared Saturday were still tied up tonight and their captains said they had been ordered to remain until told to leave by the consignors. One Italian steamer, the San Antonio, sailed for Genoa. There are probably 40 British steamers loading.

CELEBRATE SIGNING OF THE PHILIPPINE BILL

Filipinos Rejoice Over Being Granted Greater Autonomy.

Two Tablets Dedicated, One to President Wilson and One to Governor General Harrison, who Delivers Address.

(Correspondence of Associated Press).

Manila, P. I., Sept. 2.—The signing of the Jones bill, as the Philippine measure is known locally, was the occasion yesterday of a big parade in which Filipinos of all classes joined, to show their joy at the signing of the measure granting greater autonomy to the Filipino people. The parade marched through the principal streets of the city and to Malacanang Palace, the private residence of Governor General Harrison, where the chief executive and officials of the insular government reviewed it.

Arrived at Malacanang, Alcalde Roxas, mayor of the city of Manila, a Filipino, delivered an address thanking the American people for the grant of autonomy made in the Philippine bill. Two silver tablets, dedicated to President Wilson and Governor General Harrison, were presented to the chief executive on behalf of the Filipino people. The first read:

"President Wilson:

"May God bless the hand, which, upon signing the Jones bill, extends to the Philippine Islands the benefits of a new government based not on ill-feelings, but on mutual understanding, and consecrated to the preparation of the Filipino people for the greater and more lasting blessing of complete liberty and independence.

"September 1, 1916.

"The City of Manila."

It was after receiving these tablets that Governor General Harrison addresse dthe assemblage. He said:

"We are here to dedicate our feelings of gratitude to those who have led in the prolonged endeavor to secure this legislation—to Resident Commissioners Quezon and Earnshaw, to Representative Jones and Senator Hitchcock, and to all the other friends in and out of Congress who have given without reserve and with unshaken resolution the best that in them lay to bring about the passage of this law.

"This is a day of celebration in which I am very happy to share. With many of you here present I have worked unceasingly and to the best of my ability for the passage of the Philippine legislation. Our task here in the islands has been to prepare the situation for the new form of government now sanctioned by the new law. The president instructed me to announce his policy upon my arrival three years ago, and now the Congress of the United States has given official approval on behalf of the people of the country to the policy thus enunciated.

"The struggle to secure the enactment of this has been severe; I doubt whether any political campaign of recent times has been attended with so much misrepresentation and abuse as we have received from those determined to secure indefinite retention of the islands. But now that Congress has acted, I am confident that this campaign of opposition will come to an end, and that all elements in the community will acquiesce cheerfully in obedience to the will of Congress. It is time, my friends, for all who have the best interests of the Philippines at heart to recognize that Congress has now definitely settled the question of the future of these islands, and all should celebrate with us the termination of the debate.

"With a generosity and unselfishness almost unparalleled in history, the United States Congress has promised the ultimate independence of the Philippines. We know that this solemn pledge on behalf of the people of the United States will be redeemed—there will be no turning back—every step hereafter will be forward.

"The Filipino people will now assume very great responsibilities. Their friends all over the world will watch with keenest interest the operations of this new government. Their patience, dignity and self-restraint during these recent years, throughout the trying months when their future was being debated in the United States, in all the days of temporary disappointment, are an earnest of their wisdom and character in the time to come."

WAVE OF SELLING HITS NEW YORK COTTON MARKET.

Causes Break of 8 to 32 Points From Saturday's Close.

New York, Oct. 9.—A wave of selling hit the cotton market at the opening today, causing a break of from 8 to 32 points from Saturday's close. Fear of difficulties in making cotton exports due to the presence of German submarines was responsible. Later prices fell to net losses of 29 to 49 points with March selling at 16.88 or very nearly $2.50 a bale under the closing price of Saturday. Trade interests were active buyers on the decline leading to rallies of several points shortly after the opening, but the tone was nervous and unsettled.

Liverpool was firm and higher, as it was felt that shipments from this side would naturally cause an appreciation in the value of present supply abroad.

KILLS HIS WIFE AND THEN ATTEMPTS TO KILL HIMSELF

Man Prominent in Philadelphia Society Commits Double Tragedy.

Philadelphia, Oct. 8.—William Howell Ellis, who is prominent socially in this city, today shot and killed his wife and then attempted suicide by shooting himself at his home, "Holly Hock," on the Bethlehem turnpike, near Ambler. The tragedy was first discovered by a 7-year-old child, who went into his parents' room after breakfast.

Ellis is about 43 years old and his wife was 38. They have been married 12 years and have three children, the oldest of whom is 11 years old.

Last night Ellis and his wife visited some friends and returned home shortly after midnight. The shooting, which is believed by police to have been caused by jealousy, is thought to have occurred shortly after their arrival home. Ellis is reported dying.

SAVED BY A SHELL.

German Rescued From an Apparently Hopeless Situation.

(Correspondence of Associated Press.)

Berlin, Sept. 20.—There now is on record the case of a shell that rescued a man from an apparently hopeless situation.

The son of the policeman Fahrnbacher, in Landshut, on the west front, stumbled into a swamp and sank into it despite his utmost efforts. After struggling desperately for two hours he gave up all hope except that comrades might come along. Suddenly the section of country where he was was placed under French fire. A shell exploded very near him, and, instead of injuring him, tore him loose from the swamp and threw him onto solid ground. He lost consciousness for a time, and was slightly hurt on one hand, but recovered rapidly in a hospital.

PAIGE
The Standard of Value and Quality

Pride of Ownership

Wherever you may find them, Paige owners are always enthusiastic—always contented—always completely satisfied.

For these people, the automobile problem has been permanently solved. They regard their car with a warm affection which is not usually accorded to things outside the human family.

Because the Paige is worthy of trust and respect, it is trusted and respected in every section of the nation—North, South, East and West.

And, please remember, it is just this great mass of public opinion—this ever increasing owner enthusiasm and good will—that has built an impregnable bulwark of Reputation and Prestige around the name Paige.

"RADIUM INDUSTRY" GOOD

Austria Has Not Suffered in the Slightest in This Respect.

(Correspondence of Associated Press).

Vienna, Sept. 20.—The "radium industry" of Austria has not suffered in the slightest by reason of the war, according to Professor Meyer, head of the Institute for Austrian Radium Production. Rather, he says, the war has proved that Austria stands at the head of the world in this respect, and will always be a big factor in the market, despite the planned "commercial war after the war."

The radium coming from Colorado and Pittsburg, says Professor Meyer, is hardly sufficient in quantity to suffice for scientific purposes throughout the world. The Pittsburg works have in fact produced but 10 grams since the beginning of the war, and now have ceased almost altogether. The industry at Joachimstal, Austria, however, has gone on undisturbed.

Nor has the war resulted in any appreciable rise in the cost of radium production, so that the advanced prices now quoted are purely the result of speculation.

THE NEW GAME LAWS

Regulations for the Current Season -- Various Kinds of Game and When They May Be Shot In Various States -- The Treaty With Canada To Protect Migratory Birds.

Copyright, 1916, by The International Syndicate.

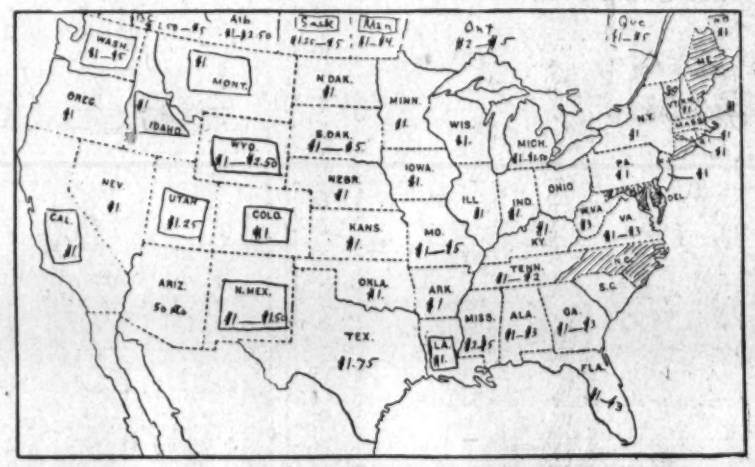
FIVE millions out of our hundred million inhabitants are hunters. Such is the estimate of the Department of Agriculture which, through its Bureau of Biological Survey, prepares the Game Laws of the United States each year. And this is the season when the hunter is stalking abroad in the land.

It has been necessary to make the game laws more and more stringent season by season; and this year a new and yet more stringent set of regulations has been provided for the protection of game. The fate of the buffalo and of other wild species which have been wholly exterminated is a warning that cannot be ignored.

Treaty With Canada.

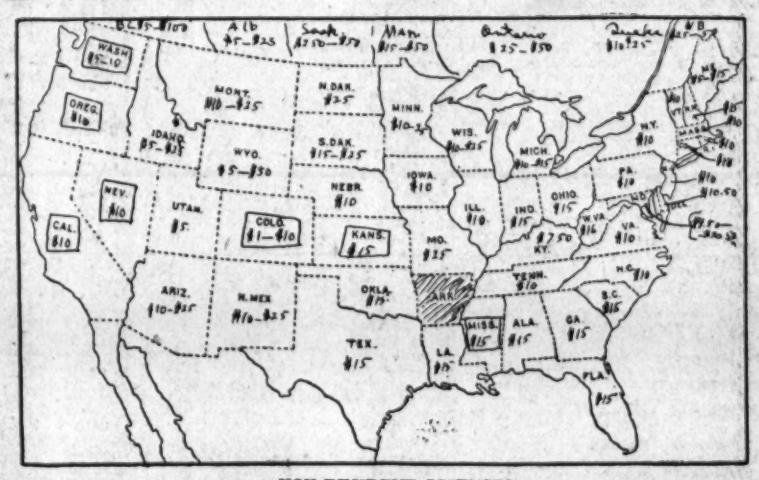
The most important feature of the rules for this year's hunting season is the treaty drawn up between the United States and Great Britain and ratified on August 29 last, for the protection of migratory birds in this country and in Canada. These birds breed largely in the Canadian provinces and winter within or to the south of the United States, journeying back and forth in autumn and spring across our territory.

The treaty provides protection to these birds in a set of articles—the substance of which has been incorporated in the new game regulations. "All geese, wild swans, brant, wild ducks, snipe, plover, woodcock, rail, wild pigeons and all other game and insectivorous birds, which in their northern and southern migrations pass through or do not remain permanently the entire year within the borders of any State or territory shall," according to the regulation, "hereafter be deemed to be within the custody and protection of the Government of the United States, and shall not be destroyed or taken contrary to regulations hereinafter provided therefor."



RESIDENT LICENSES.

States of the United States and Provinces of Canada, which require residents to obtain hunting licenses, and price of same. Several of the States exempt land owners; but some in the West (Indicated by lines enclosing name of State) require every hunter to obtain a license.



NON-RESIDENT LICENSES.

States of United States and Provinces of Canada, which require non-residents to obtain hunting licenses with maximum and minimum costs of same. Name enclosed in a square indicates that State does not permit licensees to limited amount of game out of State.

Migratory game birds include anatidae or waterfowl, cranes, rails, shore birds, pigeons and various other of their species specified by name; and among the migratory insectivorous birds mentioned are the bobolink, catbird, grosbeak, oriole, robin, swallow, thrush, whippoorwill, woodpecker, wren and all other perching birds which feed entirely or chiefly upon insects.

Night Hunting Prohibited.

A daily closed season on all migratory game and insectivorous birds shall extend from sunset to sunrise—which means, of course, that they can not be legally hunted at night.

A closed season on migratory insectivorous birds shall continue throughout each year, except that the closed season on reedbirds or ricebirds in New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, District of Columbia, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina and Georgia shall commence November 1st, and end August 31st, next following, both dates inclusive.

A closed season shall continue until September 1, 1918, on the following migratory game birds: Band-tailed pigeons, little brown sandhill, whooping cranes, wood ducks, swans, curlew, willet, and all shore birds except the black-breasted and golden plover, Wilson snipe or jacksnipe, woodcock, and the greater and lesser yellowlegs.

Two Bird Zones.

For the protection of the migratory game and insectivorous birds two zones—one known as the breeding and the other as the wintering zone—are established. The former includes thirty-one States, and the latter seventeen States, and the District of Columbia.

The closed season on water-fowl, coots and gallinules shall be as follows:

In Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, New York (except Long Island), Ohio, Michigan, Indiana, Kentucky, West Virginia, Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska and Missouri, closed between January 1, and September 15, next following.

In Wisconsin, Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota, Montana, Idaho, Wyoming and Colorado, closed between December 21 and September 6, next following.

In Rhode Island, Connecticut, Long Island, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Washington, Oregon, Utah and Nevada, closed between January 16 and September 30, next following.

Closed season on rails, black-breasted and golden plover and yellowlegs and on jacksnipe are declared in similar fashion in various States of the first zone.

One Of The Plover Family, a Shorebird.

Waterfowl In Second Zone.

The closed season on water-fowl, coots and gallinules in the second zone is as follows:

In Delaware, Maryland, District of Columbia, Virginia, North and South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Tennessee, Alabama, Mississippi, Arkansas and Louisiana, closed between February 1 and October 31, next following.

In Oklahoma, Texas, New Mexico, Arizona and California, closed between February 1 and October 15, next following.

In this second zone, too, there are closed seasons on rails, plover, yellowlegs and jacksnipe.

Duck shooting is permitted throughout the United States during the open season, with the exception of the wood duck in certain States. Daily bag limits range from ten in Maine and Oklahoma to fifty in Georgia.

Concerning Big Game.

There are but few important changes affecting big game. Deer hunting is permitted in thirty-three States, in about one-third of which the hunter is limited to one deer a season, and in most of the others to two. Sixteen States protect does at all seasons and allow only bucks to be killed; and various States require that deer may not be killed having horns less than a prescribed number of inches in length.

Open Seasons In The Various States.

The open season for the most popular game in various States is ordered as follows:

Maine—Deer, Oct. 1-Dec. 16; moose, Nov. 1, 1919; rabbit, Oct. 1-Apr. 1; squirrel, Sept. 1-Nov. 1; quail, no open season; grouse, Sept. 15-Nov. 15.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

COTTON MARKET IS NERVOUS

Submarine Development Causes Sensationally Heavy Liquidation. Prices Lower.

New York, Oct. 9.—The latest submarine development caused great nervousness in the cotton market today and at times liquidation was sensationally heavy. After selling off to 16.73, however, January rallied to 16.98 in the late trading and closed t 16.93 with the general list closing irregular at a net decline of 17 to 29 points.

The market opened weak at a decline of 29 to 49 points. The cables were relatively firm but were overshadowed by apprehensions of restrictions upon the export movement.

Reports that some of the leading British steamship lines had ordered their vessels not to leave American ports until further orders and of a sharp advance in marine war risks, added to the confusion.

January sold at 17.95 and March 16.88 on the call or just above half a cent under the high levels of Saturday. Prices rallied on profit-taking during the middle of the morning with December selling up from 16.90 to 17.08, January to 17.03 and March to 17.20. This carried the market back to within 17 or 19 points of Saturday's closing figures, but the advance attracted a renewal of liquidation with nearly all the active months breaking through the early low point during the middle of the day. December sold off to 16.87 while the general list showed net declines of 32 to 50 points. There were sharp rallies in the late trading as a result of covering.

COTTON SEED OIL MARKET.

New York, Oct. 9.—Despite the weakness in cotton and lard, cotton oil made a very firm showing on active buying and short covering inspired by the inherent strength in crude at the South. A considerable part of the day's business was in the way of undoing hedges on the part of refiners. Final prices were two points lower to three net higher. Total sales were 70,600 barrels, the largest on record.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

Violent Break Results From Submarine Operations.

New Orleans, Oct. 9.—Cotton broke violently today, the result of German submarine operations. The market opened on the wildest selling since the beginning of the war. On the first call prices of the more active months lost 46 to 65 points. Strong support caused a rally, but this was met by increased selling which, by noon, widened the loss to 51 to 65 points, or $2.50 to $3.25 a bale. The opening slump, as the record of a few minutes trading, was the greatest in months.

In the afternoon the market acted somewhat sold out, although the tone was none too steady and last prices for the day were at a net loss of 28 to 31 points. The partial recovery was due chiefly to fresh buying by strong bullish interests.

The lowest prices of the session following the report that insurance and war risks had been withdrawn and that some steamship lines had cancelled sailings. Toward the end of the day a somewhat better feeling prevailed after the official announcement of cotton cleared. Closing bids:

January 12.51; March 16.71; May 16.93; October 16.23; December 16.41.

Spot cotton quiet and unchanged, sales on the spot 645, to arrive 1,200, middling 16.19.

SEVERE BREAK IN WHEAT

On Account of Wholesale Destruction of Vessels and Cancellation of Sailings.

Chicago, Oct. 9.—Wheat values broke severely today, 4 3-4c a bushel, altogether on account of wholesale destruction of vessels and because of the fact that sailings were being cancelled on a large scale. Sharpened export demand, however, rallied the market which closed firm at 1 1-2 to 2 1-4c net decline, with December at 1.57 1-4 and May at 1.56 3-4.

Corn finished 3-8 to 5-8c down; oats off 3-4c and provisions showing a loss of 5 to 52c.

WALL STREET IS EXCITED

Stock Market Almost Panic Stricken Because of Submarine Activity. Big Declines.

New York, Oct. 9.—The stock market became almost panic-stricken today as a result of the exploits of Germany's submarines in neighboring waters. Declines were startling and bewildering at the opening and suggested a recurrence of the apprehension manifested on previous occasions when relations between Washington and Berlin were admittedly under a severe strain.

United States Steel, Union Pacific, Mercantile Marines and the better known "war brides" broke from five to almost 20 points. This condition underwent general readjustment, however, before the end of the morning session, much of the setback being retrieved, but an under current of uncertainty prevailed to the end.

Dealings slackened materially in the early afternoon. Fresh activity developed in the final hour, Steel proving something of a balance with other investment issues, some of which, hardened on the publication of the government crop report. Of the tremendous turnover, estimated at about 2,100,000 shares, fully 30 per cent. was limited to steel and the marines. Steel fluctuated between 108 and 113 1-4, closing at 111 1-2, a net loss of 4 5-8 points. Marines preferred and common recorded gross losses of 13 and 10 points, respectively, closing at no material recovery from minimum prices. Rails were steadily absorbed at concessions and closed at comparatively slight losses.

Central Leather and Sugars, as well as gas shares, suffered only nominal declines.

Bonds were heavy to weak on restricted dealings. Total sales par value were $4,270,000.

Bonds were heavy to weak on restricted dealings. Total sales par value were $4,270,000.

United States coupon 2's declined 1-2 per cent. on call.

ADMIRAL COOK DEAD

Had Been Commanded for Service at Santiago de Cuba.

Northampton, Mass., Oct. 8.— Rear Admiral Francis A. Cook, U. S. N., retired, who was commended for "eminent and conspicuous conduct in battle" while in command of the cruiser Brooklyn at the battle of Santiago de Cuba, died suddenly at his home here tonight. Admiral Cook was born here in 1843. He was retired in 1903.

KINKY HAIR

Atlanta, Ga., Residence Mar. Co. Gentlemen:— My picture shows you what your Exelento Quinine Pomade has done for my hair. Before I used it, my hair was short and coarse and now it is 36 inches long, and as soft and silky that I can do it up any way I want to. JANIE BAND.

Don't let some fake Kink Remover fool you. You really can't straighten your hair until it's nice and long. That's what EXELENTO QUININE POMADE does, removes Dandruff, feeds the Roots of the hair, and makes it grow long, soft and silky. After using a few times you can tell the difference, and after a little while it will be so pretty and long that you can fix it up to suit you. If Exelento don't do as we claim, we will give your money back. 25c by mail on receipt of stamps or coin.

marine attacks, said that Germany had promised to conduct her submarine warfare in accordance with the rules of cruiser warfare.

The ambassador remained with the President only 15 minutes and was smiling when he left. He declared he was as much surprised as anybody when the news of the sinking of the first British ship reached him.

Friendly But Firm.

It is understood that the talk between the President and the ambassador was entirely friendly, but that the President informed the ambassador of his determination to act firmly if the rights of the United States are infringed.

The President had seriously considered going to Brooklyn tomorrow to attend the third world series baseball game, but decided to remain here and keep in touch with the submarine situation.

Before seeing Secretary Lansing, the President will confer with Jules Jusserand, the French ambassador, who is coming to Shadow Lawn to bring a personal letter from President Poincare, of France, to President Wilson on Polish relief.

It is considered probable that during the conference the French ambassador may lay before the President the view of the Entente governments, that German submarines should not be allowed to come into American ports. This point probably will be taken up by the President with Secretary Lancing tomorrow night.

In Touch With Daniels.

During the day the executive offices here were in communication with Secretary Daniels and received preliminary reports assembled by the Navy Department on the submarine activities off the American coast.

The general trend of these reports was to the effect that, so far as had been determined, the rules of international law had been complied with by Germany. If was made clear, however, that these reports were of a preliminary character, and were not conclusive. Secretary Daniels was instructed to keep the President fully informed of all developments.

Peace Not Mentioned.

Count von Bernstorff said he planned to return to Washington tonight or tomorrow, going by way of New York. It was stated by officials here that the subject of peace was not mentioned in his conference with the President.

NO VIOLATION APPARENT OF INTERNATIONAL LAW

Washington, Oct. 9.—So much depends upon President Wilson's decision regarding the German submarine operations in the western Atlantic and there are so many possibilities of complications if the U-boat campaign proceeds, that officials here decline to attempt any authoritative statement of what the American government's attitude will be.

Although State Department officials are convinced there has been no violation of international law in the attacks off Nantucket, they realize that a prolongation of such operations in waters adjacent to the United States might result in serious diplomatic issues. It is understood here that it is to discuss this feature that Secretary Lansing is going to Shadow Lawn.

The Secretary declined tonight to make any statement regarding his trip or to discuss the U-boat campaign.

Decision Not Admitted.

Officials would not admit that the State Department had reached a definite decision regarding the legality of the U-boat activities so far reported. It became known, however, that all of the evidence thus far collected by the Navy Department was regarded as show that none of Germany's pledges to the United States or her obligations under international law had been violated.

Officials indicated that much informations had come to navy officials which had been withheld in the interest of neutrality. Tonight a warning was sent to navy, commercial and amateur wireless stations forbidding dispatch of any radio messages regarding movements of any belligerent warships.

Seek All Facts Possible.

It was emphasized that all the facts possible regarding U-boat attacks would be sought. Each individual case, it was said, would be decided separately. After a conference today between Secretary Lansing and Secretary Daniels, it was announced that Rear Admiral Knight, at Newport, had been requested to expedite a complete report of the submarine foray. Affidavits will be sought from officers, men and passengers of the ships destroyed and from naval officers commanding the destroyer relief flotilla.

Whether the situation would be complicate by the new allied memorandum on submarines, outlined in tonight's cable dispatches as urging that any underwater craft entering a neutral should be detained there, was another subject on which officials were silent. This communication has not yet reached the State Department. Officials have considered carefully the subject it discusses, however, and are expected to take issue with any suggestion that American neutrality was violated by the course of this government in its treatment of the German merchantman Deutschland or the German submarine U-53 which called at Newport Saturday.

The danger to neutral submarines through being mistaken by belligerent vessels hinted at in the memorandum was suggested to the American government some time and case has been taken to keep American submarines out of waters where mistakes might arise.

There was much discussion among officials today regarding the suggestion that the proximity of the German craft might develop as irritating a situation as that which led to a request by the State Department that British cruisers hovering too close to shore earlier in the war be withdrawn. The British war vessels, however, were only six miles from shore, while the German operations have been 50 miles from the nearest land and 70 miles from the mainland. Many officials thing, therefore, that there will be no complaint on that score.

The safety of passengers is regarded as an important feature by the State Department. Counsellor Polk referred questioners to previous correspondence on that subject with Germany. In the Frye case the Berlin government admitted that lifeboats should be depended on only when "general conditions" afford absolute certainty that the boats will reach the nearest port.

The fact that the American destroyers were off Nantucket for rescue work is considered irrelevent.

Temporary Base?

The possibility that German submarines have a temporary base on this side of the Atlantic was another topic discussed. At the Department of Justice it was said there had been no evidence of such a base in American waters.

A mail report on the visit of the U-53 to Newport reached the Navy Department tonight from Admiral Knight. It described the submersible's movements while in American waters.

"The vessel," the report continued, "is much larger than our L class (450 tons). The freedom with which officers and cerw conversed with visitors and their willingness to show all parts of the ship were very surprising.

"I have nothing upon which to base an opinion as to the real object of the commander in entering this port."

Admiral Knight sent a dispatch tonight saying that none of the American destroyers had been able to locate the crew of the steamer Kingstonian, who put to sea in small boats yesterday when that vessel was sunk.

In issuing its warning to wireless stations tonight, the Navy Department announced that government operators would close down any station that failed to observe the censorship regulations.

rushed at full speed to Nantucket lightship within a few minutes after the reports came of the sinking of the first submarine victim, the British freighter West Point. Rear Admiral Gleaves, commander of the torpedo flotilla, disclaimed in a statement tonight absolutely any prior knowledge of the intention of the German U-boat.

Rescue Work Commended.

Admiral Gleaves received today from various sources, official and otherwise, commendation for the rescue work of the various vessels under his command.

It was reported by members of the crew of the steamer Strathdene that the submarine which sank her had filled her fuel tanks with oil from the Norwegian tank steamer Christian Knudsen before the latter was sent to the bottom. Other refugees have declared that they saw a German supply ship hovering in the vicinity of the raid Sunday.

Although fuel tanks may have been replenished from the Norwegian vessel, naval officers expressed the opinion that after a day of such remarkable activity as yesterday's the submarine must be short of ammunition. Reports of many of the refugees agree that the submarine which halted their ship was prodigal in the use of shells.

Allied Patrol Fleet.

Just what steps have been taken by the Entente allied patrol fleet to check further ravages on their shipping is not known. The British naval officers in Canada would not amplify tonight their statement of yesterday that every necessary means had been taken.

There was a flurry of excitement tonight when the destroyer Samson received orders to proceed to Buzzard's bay. The purpose of the trip was not announced, but it recalled at once the rumors circulated yesterday that a strange submarine had been sighted by fishermen in that vicinity.

During the evening the destroyer Drayton put to sea to relieve the other members of the flotilla returning from their fruitless hunt for the Kingstonian's boats.

tries when the tariff question was largely taken from politics in the provision of a National Tariff commission of experts that will report to a subsequent congress with recommendations as to tariff regulations best suited for furthering the best interests of the manufacturing and other injerests of the country affected by tariff schedules.

Mr. McLean says it is of much importance that the committees in the various counties in the state having in hand the procurement of contributions for the National Campaign funds shall complete their work this week and turn in their funds as rapidly as possible as it is greatly needed for pressing the campaign work in the doubtful states.

Mr. McLean remained over in Raleigh tonight to take a hand in the formation of a big Wilson club that was organized in the Chamber of Commerce rooms with great enthusiasm and large membership.

Tried to Board Wilson Train.

Because he tried to force his way aboard the special funeral train of President Wilson and party here when it was here Washington bound from the funeral of Mrs. Howe, the President's sister, Judge Bond, in the Superior Court, this afternoon imposed a fine of $25 and costs on William Marks, colored. Marks attempted to board the train and when stopped by the officers on duty resisted and abused them vilely. Now he claims that he was drinking and was anxious to get to Washington to enter school, and had been told that this train would take him. He pleaded that he thought it was a regular public train.

NEW ORLEANS RECORDS ONE OF SEASON'S SHARPEST SLUMPS.

Cotton Prices Decline 45 to 65 Points Early in Session.

New Orleans, Oct. 9.—Exciting selling greeted the news of submarine activity in American waters on the opening of the cotton market today and prices slumped 45 to 65 points before the first call was over. This was a drop of about $2.25 to $3.25 a bale, one of the sharpest slumps of this season.

Much of the selling was from holders of long contracts who feared consequences of the submarine activity on exports of cotton. Prominent bullish traders were heavy buyers at the decline, checking the downward movement. Prices reacted to within 10 to 16 points of last week's close.

BERLIN RECEIVES THE NEWS AND IS DOUBLY SURPRISED

Berlin, via London, Oct. 9.—The submarine U-53 today furnished two surprises for the people of Berlin—the first its unexpected arrival at Newport and then the reports of the sinking by the submersible of British freighters off the American coast.

Regardless of the various attitudes of the newspapers in regard to submarine controversy all the journals expressed the keenest pride and pleasure in the achievement of the U-53."

Hammond, Ind., Oct. 9.—Six automobile bandits held up eight restaurants in northern Hammond early today and made their escape with about $3,000 in cash. At each stop three remained in the machine, while the other three entered the restaurants and, with a flourish of revolvers emptied the cash registers. The robbers fled across the state line into Illinois.

have been well known to American naval officers for some time, and superior only in size and proportionate power to the underwater boats of the United States navy.

As compared to the three 800 ton submarines authorized by the last Congress, the U-53 possesses no distinctive features of modern construction.

The German vessel has about 800 tons displacement, which is smaller by 300 tons than the American submarine Schley, now under construction. It has two torpedo tubes forward and two after, whereas the American type is equipped with four tubes forward. It carries 10 torpedoes against 12 carried by American submarines.

The American I and M type boats are equipped with one three-inch rifle as compared with two of the U-53, one of about four inches mounted forward and one of three inches after.

The Schley will be fitted with two four-inch rifles.

The U-53 carries three periscopes as the American submarines do, one leading to the compartment forward of the engine room for the chief engineer.

The German vessel, manned by a crew of 33 men and four officers, has two engines of the Deisel-Nuremberg type which supply 1,200 horse power each. The three 800-ton American submarines will have an equal power, making a possible speed of from 16 to 18 knots on the surface and about 11 knots submerged or equal to that of the U-53.

No American submarine in active service has less than 5,000 knots radius, the same as that of the German craft.

BELIEVES MISSING CREW PICKED UP BY PASSING OUTGOING SHIP

Washington, Oct. 9.—Rear Admiral Knight, at Newport, reported to the Navy Department tonight that, although the American destroyer flotilla was continuing its search for the missing crew of the British steamer Kingstonian, he thought it likely that they had been picked up by some eastbound merchantman which had taken them out to sea without reporting because of fear that use of wireless would endanger her.

limiting labor to eight hours promotes health, happiness and efficiency. It not only frees from excessive strain, but gives opportunity for education, for enjoyment, for the pleasant and profitable resources of leisure. The whole point is the limitation of hours of labor, that a man shall work eight hours and no longer. The Adamson bill does not provide that. It is a mere pretense to say that it does. It does not limit hours; it simply regulates pay. It is a wage bill."

said Captain Wilson told him that when the submarine came alongside, eight or ten officers, including Captain Rose, of the U-53, boarded the Strathdene.

"Captain Rose ordered me to abandon the ship immediately," Captain Yates said Captain Wilson told him. The two boats were lowered and the submarine commander gave instructions for reaching Nantucket lightship, ordering us to row as fast as possible. As we pulled away, the submarine fired four more shots at her which struck above the water line."

The oil steamer just then hove in sight and the submarine headed for her, afterward returning to torpedo the Strathdene.
